SCHOOL TRAVEL FUNDSDenied Transportation Of Dependents To Schools
For Short Time

MINIMUM IS TEN MONTHS

UNDER a circular from the Bureau of Navigation, Navy Department, dated April 23, officers who are attending schools with courses of instruction of less than 10 months' duration, will not be entitled to transportation for their dependents or household effects.

Unfortunately, it is pointed out, this will affect chiefly junior officers of the Navy, and will be a hardship upon them as under the present schedule of pay they are hard pressed to take care of their dependents.

OUTLINES POLICY

The bureau's letter, outlining the policy on this matter, is as follows:

"When an officer is ordered from one permanent station to another he is entitled to transportation for his dependents and shipment of his household effects. The funds appropriated for these purposes are limited, and it is necessary to economize in their expenditures.

"Hereafter, until further notice, courses of instruction which are less than 10 months' duration will be considered as temporary duty, and orders will be so framed that the officers concerned will proceed to the places designated for temporary duty under instruction. These orders will not entitle them to transportation for dependents, or to transportation of household effects beyond the amounts authorized in General Order No. 36-1921.

"On the completion of an officers' course of instruction he will be ordered to proceed to the new permanent station. He will then become entitled to transportation for his dependents; also to transportation of his household effects in accordance with General Order No. 36-1921.

"This supersedes Circular Letter No. 25-22 of June 30, 1922, as modified by Circular Letter No. 54-22 of November 8, 1922."

The various schools to which the transportation is denied and the number of officers now in attendance are: Torpedo School, Newport, 27 line officers, of two classes; Optics at Washington or Mare Island yards of 2 officers; Aviation, Pensacola, 50 officers; Submarine, New London, 50 officers; Chemical Warfare, Edgewood, Md., 5 officers of the line and 3 of the Medical Corps; Gyrocompass, Norfolk and Mare Island Navy Yards, and Sperry Gyro Co., one each, 4 officers; Naval Medical School, 28 officers; Mayo Clinic, Rochester, Minn., 1; and Washington, D. C., hospital, 3, a total of 173 at all schools.

All of the courses, with the exception of the Chemical Warfare, the Gyrocompass, the Mayo Clinic, and the Washington, D. C., hospital are six-month courses, and therefore just under the economy line.

The schools at which transportation for dependents and household goods will be allowed are: Naval War College, with 59 officers; the Army War College, with 3 officers; and the Post Graduate Schools. The Post Graduate Schools include: Ordnance Practical Work, 9 officers; Engineering, U. S. Naval Academy, 49 officers; Columbia University, Engineering, 35 officers; Harvard University, 2 officers; Naval Construction, Naval Academy, 8 officers; Massachusetts Institute of Technology, 12 officers; Ordnance, Naval Academy, 8 officers; Massachusetts Institute

REGULAR ARMY TO GIVE MAXIMUM
TRAINING ON MINIMUM ALLOWANCE

ONLY through the most systematic and stringent economies will it be possible to take care of 35,000 trainees in the Citizens' Military Training Camps this Summer. The same is true for the Organized Reserves and R.O.T.C. On last year's cost basis, Congress appropriated funds for only 27,000 students in the Citizens' Military Training Camps, and there were corresponding reductions in the National Guard and other activities. These economies have been made possible through the efficient cooperation of the corps area commanders.

STATE W.D. POLICY

The War Department's policy as communicated to the corps area commanders provided for two important changes in the conduct and location of the camps this Summer. They are:

1. A minimum number of changes in the stations of Regular Army units.
2. A drastic reduction in the distance which trainees are to be transported to the camps.

In carrying out this policy, corps area commanders were impressed with the fact that the burden borne by the Regular Army has just about reached the limit of capacity of that body.

Without reducing the amount of training given to the Organized Reserves, it has been possible to decrease the work of the Regular Army with the Reserve officers in the Summer camps, where there is such a great demand for the Regular units. Under this year's program it is believed that it will be possible to reduce the time spent by the Regular Army in Summer camps to three months, and that no Regular Army unit will actually be engaged for more than two months in instructing citizen trainees in camps. In handling the trainees, as will be observed in the subjoined list of assignments, Regular Army stations and posts will be more extensively used this Summer than in any previous year.

CORPS AREA ARRANGEMENTS

In some corps areas it has been found to be more economical to have training camps in two or three places, while in other cases large camps were continued. This, to a certain extent, is not such an attractive plan to the students attending the Citizens' Military Training Camps, as most of the young men prefer a longer trip to the camps. In the interests of economy, however, the War Department and corps area commanders were compelled to disregard this desire in making their arrangements.

There will be approximately 130 training camps. The tentative assignment of the Regular Army to Summer training missions with the National Guard, the Organized Reserves, the R.O.T.C. and the C.M.T.C., as arranged for up to April 29, is as appears below:

TO LINK HISTORIC FORTS

ARMY engineers attached to the District of Columbia government and in charge of public buildings and parks have drawn plans for a single boulevard linking all the historic forts about Washington. Constructing such a drive, which will be one of the most interesting in the country, will be part of the work of the proposed city planning committee or board, which Congress is expected to sanction at its next session. About the outskirts of Washington are the ring of Civil War strongholds thrown up to protect the Capital from raiders or as a last defense in case of overwhelming defeat of the Army of the Potomac in the field. Each is at present isolated from the rest, and few residents of the Capital know where all are located. Visitors seldom include them in their tours. It is now proposed that they be made places of interest on a beautiful boulevard surrounding the entire city. The forts which will be connected are still owned by the Government, although many of them have been the object of very little attention.

MOTHER'S DAY CELEBRATION

AS a token of the appreciation on the part of the Army of the loyalty of the mothers of America, the U. S. Army is going to hold a nation-wide demonstration of affection and appreciation for the mothers of the soldiers of America May 10, 1925. At every post, camp and fort where troops are stationed special ceremonies will take place at which Gold Star Mothers will be the guests of honor, and to which all mothers of soldiers will be specially invited, whether mothers of soldiers of the local command, mothers of soldiers stationed elsewhere, or mothers of veterans.

Wherever post cemeteries or adjacent cemeteries contain the remains of women who have been the mothers of soldiers local commanders will make special efforts to see that the graves of those patriotic mothers of soldiers are suitably decorated. Various women's organizations have been invited to participate in the ceremonies, nationally and locally. The General Federation of Women's Clubs has promised hearty cooperation.

NEW CIRCULAR ISSUED ON EXPENSE ACCOUNTSCovers Expenses Allowed To Regulars On Duty With National Guard

COMPTROLLER IS QUOTED

NEW instructions relating to the expense accounts of officers and noncommissioned officers of the Regular Army on duty with the National Guard were issued by the War Department this week in Circular 19.

The circular rescinds so much of Army Regulations 35-4540 as is in conflict with the new provisions, and also rescinds previous bulletins and circulars issued relating to the subject.

INSTRUCTIONS QUOTED

The new instructions say:

"1. Hereafter officers of the Regular Army detailed to make the annual inspections of the National Guard required by section 93 of the National Defense Act, approved June 3, 1916 (Bul. No. 16, W. D., 1916), and noncommissioned officers detailed to accompany them on such duty, and officers and noncommissioned officers of the Regular Army detailed for duty with the National Guard, will be, under the provisions of section 67 of the same act, as amended by section 3 of the act of Congress approved September 22, 1922 (Sec. XII, Bul. No. 18, W. D., 1922), entitled to the actual and necessary expenses, including not to exceed $7 per day for officers and $6 per day for noncommissioned officers, for subsistence in addition to cost of transportation incurred by them in making annual inspections, in joining at state stations upon relief from duty with the National Guard, on visits of instruction, on visits of inspection and instruction of units for Federal recognition, in connection with camps of instruction, inspecting target ranges, inspections of material, Field Artillery, Coast Artillery, and Signal Corps, and when carrying out the provisions of section 75 of the National Defense Act. The vouchers covering such payments will show the date and hour of departure from and arrival at stations.

"Under decision of the Comptroller General (A. D. 6460), dated March 6, 1922, the following enumerated expenses of officers and noncommissioned officers of the Regular Army, when traveling in connection with the National Guard, are not properly chargeable against Federal funds appropriated for the National Guard:

HOUSEHOLD GOODS

"(a) Transportation of household goods of officers and noncommissioned officers of the Regular Army detailed with the National Guard.

"(b) Packing and crating charges of household goods of officers and noncommissioned officers of the Regular Army detailed with the National Guard.

"(c) Transportation of mounts of officers authorized to be mounted.

"(d) Transportation charges of dependents. "The above enumerated items of expense, when authorized by competent orders, are payable from the appropriation 'Transportation of the Army and its supplies.'

TRAVEL ORDERS

"2. Orders directing travel of the character mentioned in paragraph 1 will be issued by the War Department or by department or corps area commanders. Vouchers covering travel ordered by the War Department will be sent directly to the Chief of the Militia Bureau for settlement. Those covering travel ordered by department or corps area commanders will be sent to and settled by the finance officer of the department or corps area issuing the order. When any or all of the travel is over land-grant or bond-aided road, transportation requests should be used, as when not used reimbursement for railroad fare in excess of the cost of same to the Government, had transportation requests been used, is not authorized.

"Transportation requests may also be used for such travel where no land grant is involved when the cost of such travel amounts to $5 or more. Transportation requests will not be used for travel, where no land grant is involved, (Continued on next page)

D. C. SERVICE COUNTRY CLUB PLANS PROGRESS

Facilities of Organization May Be Available By September

URGE SPORT ACTIVITIES

THE work of organizing the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps Country Club at Washington, D. C., is progressing so rapidly that it is now believed that some of the facilities of the club will be available late this Summer or early in the Fall. At the same time, plans are under consideration for expanding its activities.

Polo promises to be one of the most attractive features. This is made possible through its location, near Ft. Myer, Va., where officers stationed in Washington keep their horses. Poloists are enthusiastic over the prospects, and they insist that it could be made the location for large tournaments between the Army and civilian teams of the East coast.

HORSE SHOW SUGGESTED

With polo, the natural suggestion has been made, which is being considered, for the location of a horse-show ring on the grounds of the club. With the entrance of horsemen into the organization of the club, it is developing beyond the original plans.

One of the foremost golf architects has offered his services, without charge, to lay out two golf courses. He states that the natural contour of the land will make the most attractive courses on the Atlantic coast.

The Board of Governors are holding weekly meetings and the committees frequently get together two or three times a week.

At a recent general meeting of the resident members of the club, Rear Adm. Hilary P. Jones, U.S.N., president of the General Board of the Navy, said:

"We should not view founder membership in this new Service club from a selfish standpoint but rather as a service, as assisting in the establishment of a needed institution at Washington which will benefit all of the Services."

Maj. Gen. John A. Lejeune, U.S.M.C., Commandant of the Marine Corps, at the same meeting spoke seriously in support of the plans for this club, as benefiting especially the younger officers.

Capt. F. B. Bassett, Hydrographer of the Navy, chairman of the Board of Governors, on April 27 said: "The charges for any particular officer to serve a tour of duty in Washington are unusually high, higher perhaps than for any other one place. Upon arriving here, if an officer wishes to enjoy the facilities afforded by a country club, his nonresident membership in this club, if he enrolls now, will benefit him to a considerable extent financially, because he will be transferred to resident membership at a reduced rate according to new nonresident membership rules just adopted."

The Board of Governors announces the following additional members of the Advisory Committee: Hon. Frederick Hale, United States Senator, Chairman of Naval Affairs; Maj. Gen. Robert L. Bullard, U.S.A.; Col. William J. Donovan, Assistant to the Attorney General; Maj. Gen. Robert C. Davis, U.S.A., The Adjutant General; and Maj. Gen. Robert H. Allen, U.S.A., Chief of Infantry; the latter two officers being, respectively, chairmen of the Central Boards of Golf and Tennis for the United States Army.

IS COURT-MARTIALED ON ALIMONY CHARGE

WHAT, it was stated at the Navy Department to be an extraordinary proceeding in the administration of justice in the Navy, was announced by the Secretary of the Navy this week in the case of Lt. Comdr. Earl P. Huff, Medical Corps, U.S.N., who is to be tried by court-martial on a charge of conduct unbecoming an officer. The specification alleges that he failed to pay alimony to his former wife, under a decree of divorce granted in the State of California. The recommendation that Lieutenant Commander Huff be court-martialed came from the Bureau of Navigation.

It is stated that before this drastic action was taken, Commander Huff was warned by the Navy Department, but this appeared not to have any influence in his course in the matter. Commander Huff, who is now stationed at the submarine base at New London, Conn., is quoted as declaring that he was preparing to take steps to set aside the decree of the California court. On this account he did not think that he should be required to pay the alimony.

The final decree of divorce was obtained in 1922 in California and contained an order for Commander Huff to pay his divorced wife $145 a month. Since last April no payments have been made, it is alleged, Commander Huff explaining he intended to take legal steps in Massachusetts to have the California alimony decree vacated.

STAFF CORPS TO HOLD WAR GAMES MAY 4-9

Seven Branches of Service Will Test Procurement Preparedness

RESERVES MAY TAKE PART

FOR the purpose of testing the procurement plans of the War Department Staff Corps, war games will be held in Washington, D. C., from May 4 to 9, in the respective offices of the branches participating in this procurement test.

The seven branches of the Service participating are the Ordnance Department, Air Service, Quartermaster Corps, Signal Corps, Corps of Engineers, Medical Department and the Chemical Warfare Service. The war games will be held under the auspices of the Assistant Secretary of War, who is charged with mobilizing the industrial power of the nation.

STUDIED PROCUREMENT NEEDS

For some time the war plans section of the various War Department branches have been engaged in a comprehensive study of the procurement requirements of their respective arms which would arise in the event of war. It is to test these plans and to acquaint those officers engaged in war planning work with the multitudinous problems which would unexpectedly arise should vital supplies necessary for the conduct of a successful campaign be suddenly cut off by a declaration of war with a foreign power who possesses these raw materials.

The World War cost the American people about $500 for every second of our participation in the conflict. An illustration of what it means to mobilize industry to supply the man power of the nation in the event of war is that the money expended during just one week of the war would be sufficient to maintain the entire Regular Establishment for one year during peace time.

The games this week will represent the first 60 days of war. M-day is May 4, and zero hour has been designated as 9.30 a. m. The maximum effort will be assumed and typical war-time telegrams and letters will be prepared, but not released.

It is expected that a few Reserve officers will be ordered to participate in the games. The results of next week's assumed war operation will be watched with extreme interest by War Department authorities, as it is a test of the state of preparedness of the various procurement activities of the War Department branches.

OHIO ASSEMBLY PRAISES TWO MAJOR GENERALS

THE General Assembly of the State of Ohio on April 17, 1925, passed a joint resolution relating to the military service of Maj. Gens. Omar Bundy and Charles S. Farnsworth, which said:

WHEREAS, Prior to the next session of the General Assembly, two great American soldiers who have commanded with distinction troops from this state will, by operation of law, retire from the Army of the United States, these officers being Maj. Gen. Omar Bundy, who was commander of the 2d Division in battle, in which served many officers and soldiers of Ohio, and thereafter in peace in command of the 5th Corps Area, to which the State of Ohio is allocated, and Maj. Gen. Charles S. Farnsworth, who was commander of the 37th Division, from the State of Ohio, in battle and thereafter in time of peace Chief of Infantry, having rendered a service to the state and nation of a like conspicuous character; now, therefore, be it

Resolved by the General Assembly of the State of Ohio: That the thanks of the state are due to these great generals for the added luster they have given to this state and the military forces thereof through them both, in peace and in war; and that a copy of these resolutions, with appropriate memoranda outlining their services in detail, be made a matter of record in the archives of this state, and printed in the official acts of this session of the General Assembly thereof.

Following the above resolution was a memorandum giving the distinguished services of the generals named, both of whom are graduates of the U.S.M.A.

General Bundy, among other activities, served in the campaign in Cuba and in the Philippine insurrection; on the Mexican border, and in France during the World War, in combat, and included in his command were troops from the State of Ohio.

His actions against the enemy in the Summer of 1918 were notable in the vicinity of Chateau Thierry, which included the actions at Belleau. His commands in France were, successively, the 1st Brigade, 1st Division; 2d Division; and the 6th and 7th Army Corps. He will be retired from active service June 17, 1925, for age.

General Farnsworth, among his numerous activities, served on frontier duty at Ft. Sisseton, Dakota; was in the Cuban campaign in 1898; served in the Philippines; in the punitive expedition into Mexico, under General Pershing; commanded the 37th Division, A.E.F., in France on the battle line. He was awarded the D.S.M. "For exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services." In command of the 37th Division, says the official citation, "his efficiency, leadership and military ability were important factors in the successful operations in the Meuse-Argonne offensive, and later proved their worth when this division served with the French and Belgian forces in Belgium." He was also awarded the silver star citation for gallantry in action near Montfaucon, France; the French Croix de Guerre, with palm; French Legion of Honor (commander), and Belgian l'Ordre de Leopold (commander). General Farnsworth was retired for age, March 27, 1925.

2D BATTALION 1ST INF. BEST IN BRIGADE TEST

AS a result of the test in close-order drill of the battalions of the 4th Infantry Brigade, conducted April 13, 1925, at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., by the brigade commander, the order of merit of the battalions of the 1st Infantry within the brigade was as follows:

First, 2d Battalion; second, 3d Battalion; and third, 1st Battalion.

Col. John L. De Witt, the regimental commander, in regimental orders dated April 22 expressed to the officers and men of the regiment his gratification at the results attained and his appreciation of the conscientious efforts and close attention to detail observed throughout the regiment in its close-order training, which brought about, he says, the precision, accuracy and snap exhibited by all three battalions at the time of the test.

The officers of the 2d Battalion of the 1st Infantry which won the 4th Brigade competitive drill are as follows: Maj. W. J. Tack, battalion commander; 2d Lt. James F. Howell, Jr., commanding Company E; 1st Lt. James H. Howe, commanding Company F; Capt. James E. Allison, commanding Company G; and Capt. Dana H. Allen, commanding Company H.

CUTS ARMY EXPENSES ON U.S. SHIP TRAVEL

Comptroller Announces Only Actual Expenses Are Allowable

GIVES RULING ON APRIL 28

THAT officers and certain members of the Military Establishment named in the act of February 12, 1925, 43 Stat. 897, making appropriation for the military service for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1926, are entitled only to reimbursement of actual and necessary expenses incurred while performing travel on Government-owned vessels for which no transportation fare is charged, was decided by the Comptroller General of the United States in a decision rendered April 28, 1925.

The case submitted to the Comptroller was whether the Finance Officer was authorized to pay a "voucher covering mileage at the rate of 8 cents per mile, with a deduction of 3 cents per mile for transportation furnished, for travel performed by Warrant Officer Earl T. Halstead, U.S.A., from San Francisco, Calif., to Washington, D. C., via U. S. Army transport San Francisco, Calif., to New York City, travel performed March 10, 1925."

ACT PLACES LIMITATION

Laws pertaining to the rights of officers of the naval and military services were not uniform prior to the act of June 10, 1922. The act of June 30, 1914, 38 Stat. 410, placed a limitation on the rights of naval officers when furnished Government transportation as follows:

"That hereafter no mileage shall be paid to any officer where Government transportation is furnished such officer."

The Army Finance Department was the only War or Navy Department branch which placed a permanent construction on the act of February 12, 1925, the Navy Department and the Judge Advocate General's Department of the War Department being of the opinion that the language of the act placed a restriction or limitation on the rights of Service personnel.

In concluding his decision, the Comptroller said:

"From the language of the proviso in question it is evident that it constitutes a change of the substantive law in the act of June 10, 1922, authorizing mileage to officers, by placing a restriction or limitation on their right thereto; also that the language leaves room for doubt only as to the operation of such limitation, whether intended to operate against the appropriation in which it occurs only or whether intended as permanent legislation effective against all future appropriations from date of enactment until modified or repealed."

"The word 'hereafter' is frequently employed to indicate that a provision in an annual appropriation act is intended as permanent legislation, but the use of that word is not essential if the permanent character of the legislation is clearly indicated in some other manner, 26 Comp. Dec. 1067. It is to be observed, also, that the language here in question is not in its phraseology a restriction on the use of an appropriation but is a substantive provision fixing rights of officers."

"From the facts and circumstances leading up to the enactment of this provision in the several appropriation acts as above stated, which so clearly modifies the substantive law relative to right of officers of the several Services concerned to mileage; the fact that restrictions are frequently placed on the use of annual appropriations which are operative only as to the particular appropriation in which, or with respect to which, they are used, while a change in substantive law, although operating as a limitation on the use of appropriations is not primarily addressed to the appropriations or its use; and in view of rules of construction applicable to provisions of this character, I am of opinion that the legislative intent was that the provision should operate as a change in the substantive law relative to mileage as provided in section 12 of the act of June 10, 1922, 42 Stat. 631; and that it is permanent legislation, effective from date of enactment, 3 Comp. Gen. 123."

"Accordingly you are advised that for the travel in question Warrant Officer Halstead is entitled to actual expenses only."

MARINES MAY NOT HOLD MANEUVERS THIS SUMMER

IT is possible that there will be no maneuvers by the advanced force of Marines stationed at Quantico this Summer. The Quantico Marines left for the Hawaiian maneuvers in February and will not return much before June 1. The Marines have taken such a very active part in the maneuvers that in some quarters it is being urged that this work should entitle them to a rest for a reasonable time and is all that should be asked of the Corps.

The matter will not be decided until the Marines return, and the question has been gone over carefully by Maj. Gen. John L. Lejeune with the officers at the Marine headquarters. Brig. Gen. Logan Felan is expected to return to Marine Corps headquarters from the maneuvers about May 20, as he will be detached from his command at San Francisco or San Diego, but Brig. Gen. Dion Williams, who will be detached at the same time, will stop off for a short leave on his return by rail. Not until both of these general officers have returned to Washington will the matter of a field program for the east coast Marines be settled.

Under the present schedule, all of the Marines who have taken part in the fleet exercises will sail from Honolulu about May 2. There is a possibility that they will return to the United States on various ships as far as San Diego, where the Pacific coast force will be detached, and the east coast force will board the transport Henderson. The expedition will be demobilized at San Diego. Under the present program the east coast force will pass through the Canal Zone about May 21, and will be due at Quantico between May 27 and 31.

244th COAST ARTILLERY REVIEWED BY GEN. WARD

BRIG. GEN. FRANKLIN W. WARD, commanding the 53d Infantry Brigade, N.Y.N.G., reviewed the 244th Coast Artillery, N.Y.N.G. (old 9th), under command of Col. John J. Byrne, at its army in New York City, on April 23, and witnessed one of the best exhibitions the regiment has made for some time. The occasion was called "Veterans' Night," and the many veterans present were well acquainted with General Ward, who served 14 years as an officer of the regiment.

After the review long-service decorations were presented by the reviewing officer with suitable remarks. Those receiving the several classes follow: 25 years, Lt. Col. Louis M. Thierry, Mai. Mills Miller, Sgt. Walter Golden, Sgt. Edward Ingram; 20 years, 1st Lt. Frederick C. Williams; 15 years, 1st Sgt. Francis R. W. Hering, Staff Sgt. Walter A. Foley; 10 years, 2d Lt. Rudolph Mandell. Forty-eight members of the regiment received the 5-year medals.

Evening parade followed the presentations, and the veterans in column of twos trooped the line and received the march past. At the conclusion of the ceremonies the entire command was assembled in mass and General Ward addressed them in relation to the work and record of the old regiment and its efficient and healthy condition at the present time.

Among those present were Maj. Gen. Andre W. Brewster, U.S.A., commanding the 1st Corps Area; Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan, war commander of the 27th Division; Brig. Gen. Louis W. Stotesbury, formerly The Adjutant General of New York; Col. Elmore F. Austin, commanding 258th F.A.; Col. Robert W. Marshall, commanding 105th F.A.; Col. Thomas Fairservis, commanding 106th Inf.; Col. James E. Austin, commanding 104th F.A.; Col. Walter DeLamater, commanding 71st Inf.; Col. W. Irving Taylor, Coast Defense Officer, N.Y.N.G.; and Col. Charles Elliot Warren, O.R.C., and many others.

LAY KEEL OF V-4

THE keel of the Fleet Submarine V-4 was laid at the Navy Yard, Portsmouth, N. H., on May 1. The V-4 will be the first mine-laying submarine built by the United States Navy, and her construction involves the development of many features entirely new in submarine construction. It will be considerably larger than the other submarines of the V type.

The construction of the V-4 was authorized by the Act of August 29, 1916, and funds for her construction were appropriated in the naval bill for 1924, which provided for "one fleet submarine (mine-laying type) heretofore authorized to have the highest practicable speed and greatest desirable radius of action and to cost not to exceed $5,300,000 for construction and machinery and $850,000 for armor, armament and ammunition."

Construction of the hull of the V-4 at the Portsmouth Navy Yard was authorized by the Navy Department on August 2, 1924.

NOCE CASE IS ARGUED IN U.S. SUPREME COURT

Questions By Justices Show Possibilities Of Court Disagreement

CADET CREDIT IS ASKED

THE argument in the celebrated Noce case, contending that Army officers who are graduates of the U.S.M.A. should be given credit for cadet service, had scarcely been begun before members of the U. S. Supreme Court, on April 30, started to ask Gen. S. T. Ansell, counsel, questions upon the issues involved. If the questions asked are indicative of the final decision of the court, there does not seem to be much prospect for a unanimous opinion. The members of court, however, often ask questions simply to bring out the attorney's view upon some points which are either involved or technical.

Justice Butler stated frankly that he did not understand the meaning of longevity, and a number of other expressions which appeared in the decision of the Court of Claims and in the brief of the attorneys.

EXPLAINS LONGEVITY

General Ansell turned his attention to the acts of 1920 and of 1922, and explained just how it operated in fixing the pay of the Army, Navy and other Services.

Justice Brandeis and Justice Holmes directed a number of questions at General Ansell which might be taken as decidedly unfriendly to the decision of the lower court, giving credit for cadet service under the act of 1920. Justice Brandeis was particularly insistent upon the view that the language of the act of 1920 was intended to equalize the pay of the different Services and not to give credit for all service.

On the other hand, Justice Sutherland frequently came to the rescue of General Ansell, and indicated clearly that he could not see how the Government in its appeal from the decision of the Court of Claims could sustain its position. Justice McReynolds appeared in his questions to support Justice Sutherland, and after it had been explained to him, Justice Butler assumed a rather friendly attitude toward the contentions of General Ansell.

Assistant Attorney General Ira Lloyd Letts, who represented the Department of Justice, followed the lines of the Government's brief in his arguments to the court, as did General Ansell, in presenting the appellee. Both of these briefs have appeared in previous issues of the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL.

ADDITIONAL CHANGES IN INFANTRY OFFICE GIVEN

COL. JOHN H. HUGHES, Inf., executive officer, Office of the Chief of Infantry, has been assigned to command the 26th Infantry, Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y., 1st Division. His relief from duty in this office will be effective August 1. It is expected that the Chief of Infantry will announce the successor of Colonel Hughes in the near future.

NAVY CONSTRUCTION CORPS

REAR ADM. DAVID W. TAYLOR, U.S.N., Ret., of the Construction Corps, who is among the leading naval constructors of the world and former Chief Constructor, U.S.N., was among those who attended the annual meetings of the Institution of Naval Architects in London, Eng., which began on April 6.

Admiral Taylor presented a paper before the distinguished assemblage on "Wake Propeller Coefficients," which excited great interest and evoked a protracted discussion.

Sir Archibald Denny during the discussion, which is given at length in the Enquirer of London, and from which we make a few extracts, said that the paper sought to provide a formula by means of which the wake of any projected design of vessel could be approximately estimated. Admiral Taylor was aware that the only reliable method of dealing with the problem was by complete experimental tank investigation of each case, but that being a counsel of perfection he put forward a more or less reliable substitute, and the propeller designer would avail himself of his method.

Mr. H. L. Williams regarded the paper as a very practical one. His only criticism of Admiral Taylor's suggested method of dealing with the problem of wake was that he started his analysis from engine power instead of thrust horsepower, which was Froude's plan.

Mr. S. V. Goodall dealt with the difference in practice at the Washington and Haslar, England, tanks. At Washington the wake results were obtained with the appendix fixed on the model, but that was not the case at Haslar. He thought the British method was to be preferred.

Admiral Taylor had said that a good propeller could be designed from trial results, and he was convinced from his own experience when at Washington of the great care taken with the work carried out there that the statement of Admiral Taylor was based on far more trial results than he had quoted.

Prof. J. J. Welch, who also spoke among a number of others, said he had applied Admiral Taylor's method to a case which he had already analyzed by Froude's method and found that the difference between the two results was very small—about 1 inch in diameter and about the same in pitch, with a difference of .015 in the efficiency value.

Admiral Taylor in his reply to the discussion said the paper represented an attempt to make use of the law of variation found from experiments with models for propellers of different characteristics.

NAVY ESTIMATE FIGHT IS FORECAST FOR CONGRESS

COMMENCING with the next session of Congress, the building program for the Navy will assume great importance in the legislation. It is understood that the department will insist that $50,000,000 for the increase in the Navy will be the minimum requirements. This has not been approved yet by the Secretary for submission to the Director of the Budget, and will not be for some time.

Fifty million dollars will be asked for the laying down of four additional light cruisers, authorized last session, and a continuation of the work on two light cruisers, the fleet submarines, and China gunboats.

There are also other building projects which have already been given consideration in the General Board and the Bureau of Construction and Repair. These are the replacement of two battleships, which are authorized under the naval treaty. It is true that under the treaty the United States will not lay down its two new battleships until the calendar year of 1931, but there is much work to be done in advance by the Navy Department in the consideration of designs, armament, engines, etc. Under the present procedure, in securing legislation for new construction it will be necessary to authorize the construction of the new ships during the fiscal year of 1929. The authorization must come before the Director of the Budget will consider estimates for laying down the ships. The real fight in Congress as to whether this country will maintain its treaty ratio in battleships is apt to come at least a year before the bill authorizing the construction of the new ships is passed.

Before this time arrives the Navy Department has many problems to solve in the designs, which include under-water attack by torpedoes and attack from the air. The Navy Department is naturally interested in the British battleships Rodney and Nelson, now being constructed. The Navy Department has not an accurate knowledge as to the character of the Rodney and Nelson. Only some brief details concerning these two ships have been officially made public by the Admiralty to date. The belief is, however, that the ships will also be so designed as to carry powerful airplanes. The Navy Department is inclined to reserve its judgment on the matter until the ships are well advanced or more facts are officially known as to their construction.

The fact that the Rodney and Nelson are classed as battleships with battleship armament brings them under the treaty terms for battleship construction. There is nothing in the treaty which limits the number of airplanes that a battleship or a cruiser can carry. Provisions in the U. S. Navy have already been made for the carrying of airplanes on the older battleships, and doubtless the new ships to be laid down will be the last word in airplane capacity.

SPECIAL SERVICE NEWS AND COMMENT

BY E. B. JOHNS

HIGH officers at the War and Navy Departments naturally withhold comment upon the result of the naval maneuvers in the Pacific in which the attacking forces captured the island of Oahu until the report of the umpires have been received and carefully digested.

It can be said that the result is in no way a surprise to the Navy Department. As a member of the Army General Staff expressed it, "We knew the weakness in the defense of Hawaii, and were only curious to see whether the Navy would find it."

POINTED OUT WEAKNESS

IN this connection, the annual report of Secretary of War Weeks, the annual report of the Chief of Coast Artillery, the Commanding General of the Hawaiian Department, and the testimony of Brig. Gen. B. H. Wells before the Senate Committee on Appropriations, published some time ago, stand out as showing that Hawaii is undergarrisoned. No one in the War Department entertains for a moment a suspicion that the defense of the islands was not conducted in the most masterly way. A scanning of the list of officers in the Hawaiian Department will reveal that it contains the names of some of the ablest officers in the Service.

The prediction was made in the War Department that the umpire's report will show that the commanders of the defending force simply did not have the troops with which to repel the Navy attack.

The Chief of Coast Artillery in his annual report warned the country of the weakness of the garrison on the island. He showed how far below the authorized strength the forces in the fortifications are being kept under the present policy of the War Department. The requirements of the Coast Artillery posts are 7,453 for the Regular Army, while it is now 3,000. In the course of his testimony he said:

"To assume that reinforcements can be sent to that department after the outbreak of war is a dangerous policy. The war requirements for this garrison, less those reinforcements which are obtainable locally from the draft, should determine the size of the peace garrison. So far as concerns the Coast Artillery Corps, these figures are as follows, taken from the defense plan: War requirements (7,453) less reinforcements obtainable locally (3,461) equal 3,922 enlisted men—the proper peace garrison. It is now 3,000."

ASK ADEQUATE DEFENSE

THE vital question is raised in the War and Navy Departments by the quickness with which a landing was effected, as to whether the program for the defense of the Island of Oahu is adequate. Are the so-called standard garrisons sufficient? With the Regular Army maintained at its present actual strength of 118,000 it has been impossible to carry out the program of the War Department in maintaining the garrisons not only in the Hawaiian Department but in Panama and the Philippines.

Notwithstanding these deficiencies in actual number of troops on duty at the garrison, the impression prevails in the War Department that the war problem was worked out with the assumption that the defending force was really at its authorized strength. If this is true, the situation is more serious than it was presumed when the maneuvers were planned.

What is needed, it is contended in the department, is a well rounded but mobile Army, with all of its branches up to war strength, as well as adequate air forces and personnel for the manning of the harbor defenses. The War Department authorities hold larger coast defense guns will be useless without a well-trained and organized force to man them. The air force is inadequate, according to the preliminary reports, and if the reports of the umpire verify the press dispatches, the defenses of the Hawaiian Islands will not only be a subject for a serious study in the War Department, but will reach the halls of Congress at the next session.

NAVY POLAR EXPEDITION

THAT a third plane should be added to the North Pole Expedition is a conclusion that has practically been reached in the Navy Department, where the plans for the exploration of the northern regions by air are being studied. The Los Angeles or the Shenandoah may also be assigned "to stand by," and if this is decided upon it will call for additional personnel, both for the heavier than air machines and the lighter than air ships.

The third plane would proceed as far as the advance base of the expedition, which will probably be at Etah. There it will remain on call from either of the two planes which would be assigned to make the dash. Just how far the Shenandoah or the Los Angeles would proceed will depend upon eventualities.

COURT DRAFT DECISION

UNNOTICED by the press, the Circuit Court of Appeals has recently handed down a decision which would be of vital importance in the enforcement of a selective draft act in the event of war. The case came up on appeal from the District Federal Court at the request of the Judge Advocate General of the Army, and W. H. Meigs, District Attorney at Great Falls, Mont., presented it ably to the Court. The title of the case is U.S. vs. John McIntyre, in which it was decided that the mailing of a notice to the defendant was sufficient to induct him into military service and give a military court jurisdiction under which he could be tried for desertion.

In rendering the decision, the Judge said:

"On May 17, 1918, form known as 1014 was mailed to him (John McIntyre) at his home address, directing him to report to the Adjutant General by mail, telegraph, or in person, not later than 5 p. m., on May 28, 1918, and stating that 'unless, upon so reporting to this office, orders rescinding present order are issued, then from and after the date just specified, you shall be in military service of the United States.' The appellee, failing to report as directed, was thereafter apprehended, and arraigned before a general court martial on the charge of desertion from military service of the United States. The trial resulted in conviction and sentence of dishonorable discharge and imprisonment. The present proceedings were thereafter instituted in the Court below to obtain a discharge from such imprisonment."

The lower Court on an application of habeas corpus, released the defendant. In the District Court, it was decided that the mailing of the notice was not sufficient. In reversing the District Court's decision, the Court of Appeals quoted the now famous Bergdoll case, and numerous other decisions of higher Courts. In course of the opinion, the Judge said:

"The Court below found that there was no competent proof of mailing the notice of induction into the military service of the United States by the Adjutant General and that any presumption that might arise from the fact of mailing was overcome by proofs offered by the appellee. We are unable to agree with the Court below that there was no competent proof of mailing. The Adjutant General testified that the notice was mailed, and there was no testimony to the contrary. It may be that the witness was testifying from the records of his office and not from the facts within his personal knowledge, but if so, that fact does not appear in the record before us. His testimony as to mailing was direct and positive."

NO PROOF NECESSARY

"FURTHERMORE, it was not necessary to prove actual physical mailing of the letter, in view of the official record of the fact," U. S. vs. Bullard, 290 F. 704-711. If it was incumbent on the Government to prove the actual receipt of the notice by the appellee, we would feel constrained to the finding of the Court below on that issue, but was such proof necessary, or indispensable in order to show that the appellee was inducted into the military service of the United States?"

The Court went on to quote numerous decisions to show that this was not.

In conclusion, the Judge said: "Furthermore, the mere failure to report for military duty did not make the appellee a deserter under the regulations. The failure to report must have been with the intent to evade military service, and whether that intent existed or not was for the military tribunal to decide."

RELIEF OF ARMY N. C. O.

THE question of recommending legislation for the relief of non-commissioned officers of the Army who are ordered to training camps while they are on a commutation basis is being considered by the General Staff. In the main, these are non-commissioned officers who are selected for duty at the educational institutions with the Reserve Officers' Training Corps.

Under a decision of the Comptroller General, when these non-commissioned officers are ordered to camp during the Summer from the colleges they are deprived of an allowance of $58.50, and as they are usually on this duty for three months the loss to this efficient body of men amounts to over $150 each.

This subject comes up at every annual encampment when the non-commissioned officers on duty at educational institutions are ordered in the field with the commissioned officers. The commissioned officers receive their commutation, while non-commissioned officers are deprived of the allowance in question, which is a serious loss to them.

HINDENBURG'S ELECTION

IN Army and Navy circles in Washington there is no great alarm on account of the election of General Von Hindenburg as president of Germany. The apprehension expressed in some of the dispatches is not shared by Army and Navy officers, some of whom have recently visited Germany and are intimately acquainted with the situation. There is a general agreement on two views of the situation as a result of the election:

(1) General Hindenburg knows what war means. He knows that Germany is in an unprepared condition, and that even without the treaty limitations it will be years before Germany can be prepared to meet even France, not to speak of other countries who would support France should Germany make a warlike move.

(2) The election of a soldier like General Hindenburg, a popular idol, does not necessarily mean that the people of Germany have assumed a warlike attitude toward Europe and the world. It is pointed out in this connection that even defeated nations frequently honor the war leaders without any intention of renewing hostilities. A striking instance of this is cited in the honors which the people of the South conferred upon their leaders after the Civil War. No one ever suggested that the esteem in which Generals Lee, Jackson, Johnson, Early, and the other great Confederate generals are held by the South is an indication that the South is not as loyal to the Union today as the North. In the Spanish War and the World War they marched shoulder to shoulder with their comrades of the North for the defense of the Nation. The returns show the support to General Hindenburg came from the rural district and from the women.

NEW SHENANDOAH ENGINES

ANNOUNCEMENT is made at the Navy Department that more powerful engines will be installed in the airship Shenandoah. The change, it is estimated, will increase the sailing radius of the Shenandoah over 25 per cent. Under the plan of the department the five 300-horsepower Packard engines will be replaced by three new 700-horsepower engines of the same make. The new engines, aside from increased horsepower, will, among other features, embody a substantial reduction in the weight of the power plant of the Shenandoah.

The performance of the Los Angeles as well as the Shenandoah is attracting the attention of some large corporations, and representatives of a number of concerns have asked to be allowed to make some trips on the Los Angeles during the summer. The applications for these permits have been approved by the Navy Department.

MOTHERS' DAY

ACTING SECRETARY OF WAR DAVIS is taking a deep interest in the Mothers' Day ceremonies, which are to be conducted by the Army on May 10. The circular letter sent out by the Judge Advocate General, according to the established policy in the War Department, leaves the entire affair to the discretion of the Corps Area and Post Commanders. These will undoubtedly carry out the program with as great a success as they have on previous occasions.

Although the Army leads in rescue work in great floods and fires, there is an insidious propaganda that the Army is a heartless institution and that it does not promote a finer sentiment among its enlisted personnel. Mothers' Day is regarded in the War Department as an opportunity to show something more of the human side of the Army in making many a mother feel glad that she is not forgotten.

DEFINES FLYING PAY

THE fact that 1st Lt. Harold Lyman Clark, A.S., U.S.A., was on recruiting duty did not deprive him of his flying pay, according to the decision of the Court of Claims. It is also decided that absence from duty on account of injuries, incident to flying, does not detach him from the duty, and that he is entitled to flying pay. The facts, as they were presented to the court, were that Lieutenant Clark while on duty at Kelly Field, Tex., was directed to report to the recruiting officer at Dallas for temporary recruiting duty. He remained on that duty from December 12, 1920, to February 10, 1921, after which he returned to Kelly Field. During the time that he was on recruiting duty he made 12 flights in December, 1920, and others in January, by order of the recruiting officer, and under the orders of the Secretary of War.

COURT OPINION CITED

IN rendering the opinion of the court, Judge Hay said:

"The claim of this officer is based upon the provisions of section 13-A of the act of June 4, 1920, 41 Stat. 768-769. This section provides: 'Officers and enlisted men of the Army shall receive an increase of 50 per centum of their pay while on duty requiring them to participate regularly and frequently in aerial flights.'

"By order of the Secretary of War dated March 12, 1918, the plaintiff was placed on duty requiring him to participate regularly and frequently in aerial flights from February 12, 1918. This order, in so far as it affected the plaintiff, continued in full force and effect down to and including the dates mentioned in the petition and in the counterclaim of the defendant.

"When an officer is on duty requiring him to participate regularly and frequently in aerial flights he is entitled to the pay provided for in the statute during the time he is on such duty from the day he is placed on such duty until he is detached therefrom. In this case the plaintiff was not detached from the duty of participating regularly and frequently in aerial flights, and the fact that he was temporarily detailed to perform recruiting service does not deprive him of the right to receive the pay to which he is entitled, nor does it serve to detach him from the duty on which he is serving. Especially is this true when it appears that while on recruiting duty he was also engaged in participating regularly and frequently in aerial flights.

"The first item in the counterclaim of the defendant we think should be allowed. This officer, not being on duty in the field, but being stationed at a permanent Army post, was not entitled to commutation of quarters, heat, and light in right of his wife for the period from February 10 to February 28, 1921.

"The second item in the counterclaim of the defendant we do not think should be allowed. The officer was on duty requiring him to participate regularly and frequently in aerial flights. The flight surgeon certified on April 20, 1921, that the plaintiff was 'grounded' on that day, and that the condition was incident to flying. It does not appear for how many days he was grounded, nor that he ceased to participate in aerial flights. In fact, the same flight surgeon in the same certificate certified that the plaintiff was entitled to flying pay from April 1, 1921, to April 30, 1921. If, as an incident to flying, the plaintiff was injured so that he could not fly for a number of days during that month, that would not deprive him of his pay; he was still on duty, and was entitled to the pay provided for him by statute."

L. T. COL. H. D. COBURN, U.S.A., temporarily in command of the 30th Infantry, "San Francisco's Own Regiment," has formally awarded the regimental rifle trophy for 1924 to Company K, commanded by Lt. Thomas T. Conway. The average score made by this company, 297.1 points per man, was the highest of any organization in the regiment. The company winning the trophy three times becomes its owner. Company K has won it twice, once in 1921 and again in 1924.

At Camp Lewis the 3d Battalion of the 4th Inf.; Battery D, 10th F.A.; Co. C, 6th Engrs. have been designated as parent organization for training the C.M.T.C.

The training will be conducted by the officers of these units, assisted by other Regular and Reserve officers detailed for this purpose. These students, although attached to the regiment for instructions, will be quartered and messed apart from it. They will, however, become thoroughly imbued with the fine esprit of the organizations.

INFORMATION has been received to the effect that sufficient Militia Bureau funds are not available for the holding of a rifle and pistol camp of instruction for the Washington National Guard in 1925. This state held such a shooting practice at Camp Lewis rifle and pistol ranges during the period June 6 to 13, 1924. This camp of instruction, attended by over 100 men selected from all units in the state proved of marked value to all the guard, and it is hoped that adequate provisions for similar camps in subsequent years will receive favorable consideration.

BRIG. GEN. EDWARD J. WESTCOTT, The Adjutant General of New York, witnessed a fine review of the 71st Infantry, N.Y.N.G., under Colonel De Lamater, in the armory in New York City April 17. In addition to the review there were a number of exhibitions in Infantry drill, bayonet drill, machine-gun drill, etc. During the review the colors of the regiment were decorated with three war streamers awarded by the War Department. These were for participation in the Battles of Bull Run and Gettysburg, in the Civil War; the Santiago campaign, in the War with Spain; and the Battle of the Meuse-Argonne, in the World War. Among the ex-colonels of the regiment present were Brevet Brig. Gens. A. T. Francis and William G. Bates, and Col. J. H. Wells.

THE second annual aviation meet of the 27th Division, Air Service, N.Y.N.G., at the airfield, Miller Field, New Dorp, Staten Island, N. Y., will be held June 20, 1925.

The meet will be open to both civilian and United States Air Service pilots. A few of the events are a diversity of races in order that all types of planes may be able to compete. Bomb dropping, aerobatics, landing-to-a-mark, altitude races and parachute jumping are among the events scheduled. Full details have not yet been mapped out. Entry blanks will be ready in a few weeks and will be forwarded on request. A complete program of events will be announced as soon as possible. There are vacancies in both the officer and enlisted personnel of the squadron.

Requests for information should be addressed to Lt. A. A. McCarthy, A.S., N.Y.N.G., Miller Field, New Dorp, Staten Island, N. Y.

41ST DIVISION

APRIL 5 marked the opening day of a comprehensive program of small-arms marksmanship for the troops of the State of Washington. The Adjutant General has prescribed that not less than 60 per cent of the maintenance enlisted strength of each organization will complete the course prescribed with the weapon with which it is armed prior to June 1, 1925. To facilitate the conduct of small-arms practice, the firing of modified courses has been authorized for units armed with the rifle, automatic rifle and machine gun.

To further assist organization commanders in maintaining sufficient interest to successfully comply with the minimum requirement of completing the course prescribed with 60 per cent of their maintenance strength, the entire course "D" for rifle and the dismount course for the pistol have been worked into a series of competitions open to all units for which this firing is prescribed. The courses are progressive, from elementary instruction to record firing, and consist of eight matches for the riflemen and seven for the pistol shots.

THE movement of the troops of the Oregon National Guard into summer camps will commence on June 11. The main movement will be to Medford, Oreg., where approximately 2,500 officers and men will train, arriving at their camp June 12 and remaining for 15 days. The commanding general has named the camp near Medford Camp Jackson, and the postoffice address of the Infantry brigade, Field Artillery, Engineers, Staff Corps and Hospital troops will be Camp Jackson, Oreg.,

during the last half of June. Camp Jackson is virgin territory so far as a military camp is concerned. It will be a great improvement over the worn-down barracks at old Camp Lewis.

Ft. Barry, Calif., will be the destination of the Coast Artillery battalion, which will take nearly 300 officers and men to that station for training. The Coast Artillery batteries will start leaving home June 13 and will converge on Ashland in time to reach camp June 15.

Orders covering every essential detail of the Jackson camp have been issued to this reinforced brigade by General White and the orders for the Coast Artillery movement are also issued.

This year is expected to be the best ever held, the commanding general's policy being to combine vacation and training for the citizen soldiers who give up their vacations to attend camps.

77TH DIVISION

THE fourth annual reunion and dinner of the officers and enlisted men of the 77th Division, and the 77th Division Association, Army of the United States, was held at Hotel Astor, New York City, April 6. An enthusiastic company of 450 persons being present. At the speakers' table were Col. C. W. Wickersham, Col. J. J. Bradley, 18th Inf., U.S.A.; Brig. Gen. Palmer E. Pierce, commanding 153d Infantry Brigade; Maj. Gen. Robert L. Bullard, U.S.A.; Col. Peter E. Traub, Cav., U.S.A., chief of staff, 77th Division; Col. Richard E. Enright, O.R.C., Police Commissioner, New York City; Brig. Gen. Cornelius Vanderbilt, O.R.C.; Col. Rhineland Waldo, O.R.C.; Col. Harrison J. Price, Gen. Staff Corps, U.S.A., and Capt. Kenneth O'Brien. The toastmaster was Colonel Traub, and the speakers were General Bullard, Colonel Enright, General Pierce, and Colonel Bradley, all of whom made interesting remarks befitting the occasion.

A feature this year was the inclusion of women guests, and an enjoyable dance followed the dinner.

In addition to the officers named above the following commanding officers of divisional units were present: Col. A. G. Thacher, 306th Inf.; Brig. Gen. C. I. DeBoise, 154th Brig.; Col. W. H. Mayes, 302d Ammunition Train; Col. C. E. Lacombe, 302d Engrs.; Col. Jay D. Whitham, 302d Med. Reg.; Lt. Col. E. J. Robbins, Special Troops; Maj. S. S. Hanks, Division Air Service; Maj. H. M. Gallup, 302d Observation Squadron, and Maj. S. H. Woods, Division Train.

Others present included Maj. A. G. Gardner, Capt. Horace M. Graff, Maj. E. Adams, Lt. Col. E. Altman, Lt. Col. F. R. Appleton, Capt. I. Berry, Maj. L. H. Gilmore, Lt. C. H. Greenberg, Lt. Col. J. W. Grissinger, Capt. F. J. Murphy, Col. C. F. LaCombe, Capt. Nathan H. Lord, Lt. H. H. Pell, Jr., Lt. Col. T. M. T. Raborg, Capt. T. E. Sullivan, and Maj. S. H. Woods.

103D DIVISION

THE 103d Division arranged, through the courtesy of the Colorado National guard, to hold target practice with the .30-caliber rifle at the rifle range at Golden, which began April 19. Capt. Crosby N. Elliott, of the 103d Division, was in charge of the instruction in marksmanship. A nominal charge was made to cover expense of having the targets pasted, but aside from that there was no expense to the Reserve officers who took advantage of this excellent opportunity.

THE One Army Dinner, held at the Auditorium Hotel on Saturday night, was one of the best ever held in Denver. Col. Paul Newlon, The Adjutant General of the State of Colorado, gave an interesting talk on the National Guard. Maj. J. G. Kretschner gave an illustrated talk on "A Tramp Newspaper Man in the Orient." The Air Service Association furnished the program for the evening and turned out in a body of over 50.

COL. AND MRS. K. C. MASTELLER entertained at the Denver Country Club on Friday evening, celebrating their wedding anniversary. Covers were laid for Col. and Mrs. James E. Shelley, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hall, Maj. and Mrs. Orlando Ward, Capt. and Mrs. Henry Hutchings, Jr., Mrs. Hans O. Olsen, Lt. and Mrs. J. T. de Camp and Capt. C. W. Yuill, Inf.

2D CAVALRY DIVISION

THE 13th United States Cavalry is compiling a regimental history. Any items of interest and any photographs possessed by officers and enlisted men who served with the regiment are urgently requested. It is the purpose of the sponsors to turn out a history which will be one of the best in its line. For this reason the cooperation of all interested is sought.

Information or photographs should be mailed to the Adjutant, 13th Cav., Ft. D. A. Russell, Wyo.

21ST CAVALRY DIVISION

THE rodeo, wild-west show and circus, which followed a rube band. There were exciting chariot races and rough riding, among the many events. The "covered wagon" episode, in which a troop in the uniform of the old Regular Cavalrymen engaged in a fight with a band of hostile Indians, and finally rescued the survivors of an emigrant train who were fighting for their lives, was especially exciting, and special scenery was used for this event.

There were real cowboys, giving exhibitions of calf roping, bronco busting and steer throwing. There were exhibitions of jiu jitsu, boxing matches and numerous clowns. Some of Brooklyn's prettiest society girls sold peanuts, programs, papers and genuine circus "red lemonade." They also sold large supplies of "hot dogs."

Maj. Thurston Dexter, of the Medical Detachment of the 101st Cavalry, was chairman of the committee in charge, assisted by Capt. W. Lee and other members of the regiment.

63D CAVALRY DIVISION

THE 15 days' active duty training period for 18 officers of the 63d Cavalry Division at Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., came to a close on April 19, the actual instruction having ended on April 17, the remaining two days being utilized by the Reserve Officers in returning to their homes.

The training which followed carefully prepared schedules of instruction was excellent, and the Reserve Officers attending gained a great deal of benefit from their two weeks' tour. The climatic conditions were ideal, and the facilities at Ft. Oglethorpe, the home station of the 6th Cavalry, for Cavalry training would be hard to improve upon.

On the eve of the departure of the trainees, the Chattanooga Chapter of the Reserve Officers' Association was the host at a dinner at the Hotel Patten in honor of the visiting Reserve Officers. Sixty-five were present, which included several prominent civilians.

During the course of the evening the visiting officers were introduced to their brother officers of Chattanooga. Entertainment was furnished by the "Bath House Quartet," composed of officers of the 6th Cavalry, U.S.A.

COAST ARTILLERY CORPS

THE following Reserve officers have been assigned to the 2d Coast Artillery District:

Capt. H. D. Fansler, C.A.; 2d Lts. T. P. Willson, C.A.; H. Schatkowski, C.A.; and 1st Lt. S. H. Lovering, C.A.

G. H. Q. RESERVES

THE 570th Field Artillery, GHQ-Res., held its first official gathering at the Army and Navy Club, New York City, on April 21. After the publication of orders organizing the regiment and appointing Col. Roger H. Williams, FA-Res, its commanding officer, the national colors were presented to the organization by Col. William S. McNair, U.S.A., who is the Director of all Non-Divisional Artillery, XII Army Corps.

Later in the evening, Colonel McNair, ex-Chief of Artillery, First Army, A.E.F., sketched a brief history of the branch for the benefit of the officers present, in which he laid particular stress upon the fact that at the present time an Artillery officer is permitted a concentration on his professional duties which in times past was impossible, due to the large amount of experimental work on ordnance which was of necessity carried on by the line officers themselves, whereas at present such duties devolve upon staff departments created for that purpose.

At its inception the regiment voted unanimously to accept the motto "It shall be done!" in conjunction with the regimental shield which had been adopted.

THE SIGNAL CORPS

REPRESENTATIVES of the Signal Corps of the Army and the Communications Division of the Navy held a conference on radio procedure in the office of the Chief Signal Officer of the Army on April 30. Capt. Tom C. Rives, S. C., chief of the radio department of the Signal School, Camp Vail, N. J., also attended the conference.

This radio procedure, after agreement has been reached, will be adopted for use by the Navy communications service, and also will be used in the War Department radio net and all Signal Corps, Infantry and Artillery tactical radio nets. The system which will be finally adopted will be such that every sign will be clearly, simply and easily understandable by every man, whether he be in the Army or in the Navy.

DURING the next six months the following approved Signal Corps construction projects throughout the various stations of the Army will be carried out:

Ft. Benning, Ga.—The extension of the post telephone system outside plant to the new hospital at this post and the installation of 34 telephones in the hospital. Present facilities to the new hospital are inadequate, and it is proposed to install a cable of sufficient size to care for any future requirements.

Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.—The installation of an insulated aerial counterpoise and high-speed relay keys for the Army Net Radio Station at this post, to increase the efficiency of the 30-kw. transmitter for Army net traffic.

Camp Devens, Mass.—Miscellaneous extensions to and rehabilitation of portions of the telephone system outside plant at this post, necessitated by minor extensions of camp sites and deterioration of the present system.

Kelly Field, Tex.—The reconstruction of a portion of the aerial cable system of the post telephone system at this post which is necessary due to replacement of light and power circuits by the Quartermaster Corps. The aerial telephone cables to be replaced have given considerable trouble, and would have to be replaced in the near future, irrespective of any Quartermaster Corps changes. It is proposed installing approximately 1,100 feet of 100 pair aerial cable with the necessary terminals, etc.

Ft. Eustis, Va.—The installation of 60 additional line equipments on the post telephone switchboard at this point, and of 10 additional telephones in officers' quarters. The present switchboard equipment is full to capacity, and as the assignment of officers has been increased from 70 to 100, additional equipment will be necessary. The 60 additional line equipments will provide for any growth which can be foreseen for the next 12 months.

Camp Dix, N. J.—The installation of a communication system on the target range at this point, to be in accordance with G. O. No. 6, February, 1924. It is proposed installing approximately 5,400 feet of armored cable in trench and construct aerial lines to the post telephone system.

Ft. Snelling, Minn.—The replacement of portions of the cable-distribution system of the post telephone system at this post with new aerial cable. The cable to be replaced is a buried, armored cable which has given considerable trouble during the past three years, and is also inadequate for the present telephone requirements in the west section of the post. It is proposed installing approximately 3,200 feet of 100, 50 and 25 pair cable, with suitable terminals.

Camp Meade, Md.—The installation of additional equipment to the present target range communication system at this post. The present system was installed in accordance with G. O. No. 6, February, 1924, and the additions desired consist essentially of replacing the temporary wire runs called for in G. O. No. 6 with permanent underground cables, with suitable terminating jacks where telephones are to be connected, and wiring the entire range for power ringing for loud-ringing extension bells used.

MAJ. CHARLES M. MILLIKEN, S.C., on duty in G-2, General Staff, is now in Hawaii acting in the capacity of umpire.

QUARTERMASTER CORPS

UNDER instructions of the Quartermaster General, a test of raincoats recently made at the Boston Quartermaster Intermediate Depot demonstrates that this class of equipment may be kept indefinitely in proper storage. The tests were made from a considerable stock of raincoats in sizes not readily issuable, in bales which have been in stock since the war. The garments were of double-texture rubberized fabric which has been adopted as the most suitable for Army use.

A raincoat was selected from a very tight bale which had been made in 1918 and water pressure was applied to the limit of 200 pounds by a machine constructed for the purpose of forcing water through the fabric. The test showed that this stock of raincoats was in as good condition as those received on recent contracts to complete assortment for sizes.

In the past this class of equipment has generally been considered as of short life, but the tests conducted recently have demonstrated that it may be kept indefinitely in proper storage.

THE U. S. INFANTRY

PROMPTED by the desire to have a United Infantry participate in the building of the Infantry Memorial, which is being erected at Ft. Benning, Ga., in commemoration of those Infantrymen who made the supreme sacrifice during the World War, the commandant of the Infantry School has invited all Infantry regiments of the Organized Reserve component of the Army of the United States to take part in this project. The memorial is known as the Infantry School Recreation Center, the salient features of which are Doughboy Stadium and Gowdy Field.

The funds to carry on this construction are being raised by contributions of the individual Infantry officers and Infantry organizations, and so far the funds which have already been paid in have made it possible to complete more than 50 per cent of the project. The invitations to the Organized Reserve units were not issued until the financing of the project was assured.

Based on the three Organized Reserve divisions for each corps area, there are 108 Organized Reserve Infantry regiments. There are available at the present time enough boxes to provide each Infantry regiment with a box; each regiment, except those previously subscribing, to subscribe $100 to the Doughboy Memorial. In addition to the box, there will be placed in the main entrance to the stadium a bronze tablet, to be known as the Organized Reserve tablet, on which will be placed an appropriate inscription, together with the name of each regiment contributing $100 as a box owner. These boxes will be available for the use of bona fide Organized Reserve personnel who may be present at this station during the football season. This provision, of course, is subject to the same restrictions as made for all box owners by the Athletic Council as to general admission.

THE commanding general at Ft. Benning, Ga., has been authorized by the War Department to change the location of certain roads leading to and in the vicinity of the new hospital just recently completed and which is now occupied.

THE War Department has advised the commanding officer of the 29th Infantry, Ft. Benning, that charges for clothing overdrawn can be entered on pay rolls other than June or December, as soon as they are able to get out the revised Army Regulations.

AUTHORIZATION has been given by the War Department to the commandant of the Infantry School to install a motor generator in one of the old school buildings for the purpose of charging batteries used in communication courses, and batteries pertaining to radio sets and telephones.

INFORMATION has been received from Ft. Benning that a large amount of building material and utility supplies have been secured for the use of that post from Muscle Shoals. This material was hauled by truck. The distance between these points is, roughly, 350 miles, and the motor convoys, under the command of Capt. A. W. Pollitt, Q.M.C., have been very successful in their journeys.

CHAPLAINS' CORPS

FOLLOWING the conference of Regular Army and Reserve chaplains held last week in Washington, D. C., an organization, to be known as the Association of Chaplains of the Army of the United States, was formed. The active membership of the association is to be limited to those who are now serving as chaplains in the various components of the Army or who may at any time have served as chaplains in the United States Army. Honorary membership will be extended to certain men whose relations to this type of work have been well established.

The primary purpose of the association is to foster a fellowship among the men who are serving as chaplains in the Regular Army, Officers' Reserve Corps, National Guard, retired chaplains and those who formerly served as chaplains; to disseminate information relative to the religious work in all branches of the Army; and to exchange ideas and develop means for promoting such work and thereby maintaining a high moral standard throughout the Army.

The association will have its headquarters in Washington, and branch organizations are to be formed in the various corps areas and departments. To put these plans into effect, temporary officers were chosen as follows:

President, Rt. Rev. Charles H. Brent, Bishop of Western New York, Senior Chaplain American Expeditionary Forces; vice president, Rev. Jason Noble Pierce, pastor First Congregational Church, Washington, D. C., Senior Chaplain 2d Division, A.E.F.; and secretary-treasurer, Chaplain Julian E. Yates, U.S.A.

The following compose the association's executive committee: Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron, Baltimore Hebrew Congregation, Baltimore, Md.; Chaplain William R. Arnold, U.S.A.; Rev. Francis P. Duffy, Chaplain 165th Inf., N.Y.N.G.; Rev. Scott R. Wagner, pastor Reformed Church in United States, Hagerstown, Md.; and Rev. Joseph R. Sizoo, pastor New York Avenue Presbyterian Church, Washington, D. C.

In dedicating their lives to the removal of the causes of war, the council resolved that "as ministers of religion our life work is the promotion of that righteousness in individual, social and economic life which is the ultimate security of the Nation against wars."

Relative to the work of the Regular and Reserve chaplain in the Regular Establishment, the resolution read as follows:

"The spirit of the Army in time of peace becomes the spirit of the Army in time of war. To a remarkable degree, considering the very small Regular Establishment maintained, the spirit of the Service is conveyed to the vastly larger number called to the colors in emergency. If religion has no official place in the permanent Service, or if its representatives receive scant consideration and religious ministries are left to spasmodic and voluntary endeavor, there will be established in the American Army a tradition of godlessness and irreligion. Such tradition would not be easily displaced if it became necessary to defend our country with a great proportion of our young manhood. For this reason it is necessary to maintain the highest standards of consecration and efficiency in the work of chaplains serving permanently in the Regular Army. This work has the heartiest support of the great body of Reserve chaplains, who, if called to duty, will have benefit from the high traditions of the chaplains' service established by the men who are giving their lives to the spiritual needs of the men who wear the uniform."

"The Reserve chaplain has a high mission to perform in the maintenance of national security. He is under no restraints of thought or speech not binding on every other loyal citizen and is free to exert influence against the prejudices and passions which lead to strife and in favor of the love of all men, broad as the love of God, in which alone is the hope of abiding peace. But the acceptance of a Reserve commission is a pledge that if the day for which we pray when war shall be no more must be postponed yet longer, the men whom duty calls to arms shall have close at their side the servants of God, subject to the same orders and obedient to the same discipline. The official recognition of chaplains is testimony that ministers of religion do not claim special privilege in the discharge of their duty in time of peril to the Nation, and that clergymen do not seek to exercise their holy office while exempt from the restraints and hardships which are imposed upon others. We ask for no less stringent loyalty to lawful authority than that demanded of the humblest soldier, at whose side we stand ready to serve both our country and our God."

ANNAPOLIS SPORTS

THE collegiate rowing season was inaugurated April 25 when Naval Academy crews won in a double-header event from Massachusetts Tech, the crews of the younger Glendon giving an exhibition which promised much for the season.

Tech, with an unusually good varsity, was outpulled, the Midshipmen increasing their clear-water advantage rapidly as the boats neared the finish, and winning by four lengths of open water.

The preliminary race, in which the entrants were the light varsity of Tech and the second crew and plebe, or first-year class, eight of the Naval Academy, speedily resolved itself into a brush between the two Navy crews, the second crew winning by a few feet, with Tech four lengths behind the plebes.

The times of the varsity events were: Naval Academy, 6:43; Massachusetts Tech, 6:56. The performances in the junior event were: Naval Academy second, 7:05; Naval Academy plebes, 7:07; Tech light varsity, 7:20.

The distance for both races was the Henley course of a mile and five-sixteenths. Smooth water prevailed for the first race, the junior affair, while a lively breeze sprang up and made the water quite rough for the senior oarsmen.

The race was rowed on the new course, which begins this side of the railroad bridge, passing under the new highway bridge and finishing off the ships' wharf of the Academy. It affords a much better view of the stretch and finish than that given on the old course.

The Navy varsity rowed with great power and smoothness, getting a slight advantage at the start, which had been increased to three-quarters of a length as the crews passed under the highway bridge, a little short of the half-way point. Without increasing the time of the stroke, the Navy oarsmen increased their advantage from that point to the end.

These were the crews, with weights of members:

Naval Academy Varsity.—Bow, King, 172; 2, Chillingworth, 182; 3, W. C. Eddy, 175; 4, D. T. Eddy, 176; 5, Shieke (captain), 170; 6, Sylvester, 181; 7, Watson, 172; stroke, Bell, 182; coxswain, Seabring, 114.

Massachusetts Tech Varsity.—Bow, Hamblet, 164; 2, Velantine, 154; 3, Flexington, 160; 4, Latham (captain), 177; 5, Lauria, 172; 6, Collins, 183; 7, Peterson, 154; stroke, Underwood, 170; coxswain, Houghton, 114.

Naval Academy Plebes.—Bow, Norgaard, 155; 2, Sear, 150; 3, Quilter, 155; 4, Ball, 165; 5, Pollock, 165; 6, Morris, 173; 7, Bagdanovitch, 170; stroke, Broadbent, 178; coxswain, Koper, 112.

Naval Academy Second.—Bow, Hurt, 160; 2, Staub, 161; 3, Pederson, 165; 4, Brewer, 164;

5, Olsen, 180; 6, Whelan, 160; 7, Hoerner, 181; stroke, Glein, 161; coxswain, Sugnet, 113.
Massachusetts Tech Light Varsity.—Bow, Copeland, 151; 2, Emery, 160; 3, Harvey, 149; 4, Lammert, 152; 5, Eaton, 150; 6, Geis, 154; 7, Kales, 154; stroke, Greer, 148; coxswain, Dearie, 119.

THOUGH Swarthmore won three of the five strings of singles here April 25, the Naval Academy courtmen came through with the tennis match by taking both doubles, so that the final score was four to three.

Some good tennis was exhibited, the playing of Lyman, Navy, and Seymour, of the visitors, being particularly fine. Seymour gave the Navy crack a hard fight in both singles and doubles, but was shaded as the matches progressed. Young, of the Navy, also made a particularly good showing, as did the Hodge brothers, of Swarthmore, in the singles.

AFTER batting out four runs in the first inning and leading by 5 to 1 through the fifth session, the Midshipmen played ragged ball against the University of West Virginia on April 25, the final score being 7 to 5, in favor of the visitors.

Tallman, the Mountaineer pitcher, was batted hard in the first inning but stayed on the mound and was very effective as the game progressed. Jarrell pitched well for the Navy for five innings, but the visitors batted Dyer and Myers, who followed him, without difficulty.

Doubles by Ward, Cooper and O'Neill, a single by Fenno, and a base on balls gave the Navy its four runs in the opening session. With the score 5 to 2 against them, the visitors tied the score in the seventh with three runs on singles by Fanley, Bruder and Morrison, a base and Hamilton's bad throw to third, which let in two runs.

West Virginia won the game by scoring two runs in the eighth on a hit batsman, Fanley's sacrifice, O'Neill's error, Bruder's single and Hamilton's bad peg to second, which allowed Tallman to score.

NAVAL ACADEMY plebes had a successful afternoon on April 25, with victories in rowing, baseball, lacrosse and tennis.

The eight defeated the light varsity of Massachusetts Tech by three lengths, the nine won from Calvert Hall of Baltimore by 2 to 0, the lacrosse twelve defeated Baltimore Poly by 6 to 4, and the tennis team won from the Johns Hopkins Freshmen by 7 to 2.

The lacrosse game was a remarkable contest, requiring two extra periods of five minutes to settle. The score was tied at three points at the end of the regular session, and there was no score in the first extra. After Poly had scored in the second extra the Navy cut loose and scored three goals in the last minute and a half of play.

THE Naval Academy lacrosse team was given a far harder fight than anticipated by New York University on April 18 at Annapolis, but won by a score of 3 to 0. It was by far the smallest score this year, but the Midshipmen maintained their record of not being scored against this season.

Though not dangerous in the scoring line, New York exhibited a surprising defense from the start, in which Captain Joblenka at third defense, Gold at goal and Maier at point were the most effective. The defense was able to block most of the Navy's thrusts for goal, and Gold made some fine stops of those which did come to him.

Eleven and a half minutes after play began, Clark managed to cut from behind and score, and Craig scored from a melee in front of the goal four minutes later. New York played even better lacrosse in the second half, and Poore's goal, after a run from midfield within less than three minutes from the end of the game, was the only tally.

POLO HANDICAPS

OF interest to the polo enthusiasts in the Services will be the ratings recently issued by the Indian Polo Association on the Jodhpur team, composed of the star polo players of India. The Jodhpur four may meet the U. S. Army polo quartet, which is training in England to defend the international military championship title.

The handicaps of the Jodhpur team follow: Capt. A. H. Williams, Central India Horse, 8; Capt. T. Rao Raja Harut Singh, 2d Lt. Prithi Singh, Ram Singh and Buni Singh, 7 each; total for four to make up team on the field, 29.

WEST POINT SPORTS

LAFAYETTE trounced Army's nine handily on April 22, winning by an 11 to 2 score in a game featuring heavy hitting on the part of the Eastonians with plenty of errors on both sides. Roomma was driven from the mound in the eighth. It was Army's first defeat of the season, excepting that administered by the New York Giants a fortnight ago.

Army originally had an open date on its baseball schedule for April 25. Later it thought it had it filled by the scheduling of Seton Hall, but due to some confusion the latter nine was unable to play here on that date, so there were no Corps athletic activities at home last Saturday.

IN the lacrosse between the Cadets and Hobart College, April 22, Army's twelve won, 3 to 0. Westphalinger, of the Army team, starred by his fine defensive work. At Syracuse, on April 25, the Cadets defeated Syracuse University 5 to 1 in a well-played game. It was the first trip away from home the lacrosse squad has ever had. The squad left West Point Friday night and returned Sunday afternoon. Captain Harmon was in charge of the party.

BESIDES the lacrosse match played at Syracuse April 25, Army athletes won at Cornwall, N. Y., on the links of the Storm King Club, defeating Columbia University 6 to 3. At New Haven the Cadets' tennis team was badly defeated by Yale, losing to the Elis by a score of 10 to 0.

CADET Calhoun, of the Army track team, was the only West Pointer to get notice in the Penn relays at Philadelphia. Calhoun was fourth in the international two-mile race, which was won by Phelps, of Iowa State, with Schimek, of Marquette, second and Schmid, of Columbia, third.

THE Corps Rifle Team defeated the 7th Regiment of Infantry, New York National Guard, on Saturday by a score of 1,794 to 1,665.

ELEVENTH INFANTRY WINS

THE 11th Infantry four defeated the 3d Field Artillery team at Ft. Benjamin Harrison on April 19 by a score of 15-11. The contest was refereed by the post commander, Gen. Dwight E. Aultman.

The lineup for the 3d Field Artillery was: No. 1, Lieutenant Hardin, with no handicaps; No. 2, Lieutenant Vocke, with three handicaps; No. 3, Captain McCreary, with three handicaps; and No. 4, Colonel Locke, with no handicaps. The substitutes were Lieutenants Harding and Conrey.

The 11th Infantry lineup was: No. 1, Lieutenant Brimmer, no handicaps; Captain Foy, no handicaps; Captain Craig, nine handicaps; and Lieutenant Gould, three handicaps. The substitutes were Lieutenant Bing and Major Blumel.

The 3d Field Artillery has reorganized its polo association. Colonel Locke has been made president, Lieutenant Meeks secretary and treasurer, and Lieutenant Conrey property officer.

INFANTRY FOUR WIN

THE Infantry Blue polo quartet defeated the Ft. Oglethorpe four, 8-7, in a closely played game at Ft. Benning on April 20. Both sides kept practically even in scoring until at the close of the eighth chukker the score stood 7-7. It was finally agreed that the first score made in an additional chukker would decide the game.

Following an interchange of shots and exciting play, the Blue four drove down the field and finally shot the sphere between the markers. The ponies of both teams were in excellent condition. The team play featured the contest.

ARMY AIR SERVICE

UNDER the leadership of Maj. Edward V. Rickenbacker, AS-Res, chairman of the committee on organization of the U. S. Air Force Association, the organization of this association is rapidly being completed. The other members of this committee, all Air Service reserve officers, are: Lt. Col. Joseph F. Randall, W. G. Schaffler, Jr., and Harold E. Hartney. The primary purpose of this association, which was formed during the recent aircraft controversy, is to stimulate interest among the regular commissioned and enlisted Air Service personnel of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, which also includes former pilots and enlisted men of the above-mentioned services. The association has announced that all citizens of the United States who are interested in the development of aeronautics are eligible for membership.

ACCORDING to the present plans, planes known as the PN-9 type will be used in the non-stop flight which will be made by the Navy to the Hawaiian Islands this Summer. This is a twin engine type, tractor boat seaplane, and carries a normal crew of five men. When fully loaded, it weighs 18,125 pounds, of which 50 per cent is a useful load. Its engines, which are of the Packard type, are rated as 475 horsepower, but it is said that they actually develop more than 500 horsepower. The maximum speed obtainable is 117 miles per hour, while the cruising speed is 80 miles an hour.

Beginning with the F-5-L type, which was used during and since the war for patrol and scouting purposes, the PN-9 type is based upon a series of models up to the present time. Its construction is a combination of metal, wood, and fabric. The hull is constructed entirely of metal, while the tail surfaces are of metal and fabric.

THREE entries from the United States, two from England, and two from Italy will compete in the 1925 Jacques Schneider Cup Race, which contest this year will be held on October 23 and 24, at Bay Shore Park, Baltimore, Md.

THE RESERVE OFFICERS

ORGANIZATION of the medical reserve officers residing in the District of Columbia and vicinity was perfected at an organization meeting held at reserve headquarters recently, which was presided over by Lt. Col. John Scott, Executive Officer of the Organized Reserves in Washington. The first speaker on the program was Brig. Gen. W. D. McCaw, Acting Surgeon General of the Army, who briefly outlined the development of the medical service and stressed the importance of an adequate organization and training of medical reserve officers under the present military policy. General McCaw was followed by Maj. Glenn I. Jones, M.C., Maj. H. P. Carter, M.C., and 1st Lt. R. B. Stewart, V.C., all on duty in this office, who explained the organization and training efforts of the War Department with respect to the Medical Department.

Following these addresses, the 51 reservists in attendance at the meeting engaged in a discussion, upon the completion of which Col. Edward P. Seibert, Lt. Col. William I. Mallory, and Lt. Col. Thaddeus S. Tray, all medical reserve officers, were named chairman, assistant chairman, and secretary respectively.

Meetings will be held once each month, it was agreed, a definite date for which will be decided shortly. It is believed that the monthly assemblies will be held in the Medical Society Building, 1718 N. St. N.W., Washington, D. C. The Surgeon General of the Army will designate regular medical officers to attend the meetings, who will act in the capacity as instructors, and according to the present plans, a schedule will be prepared which will be fully instructive as to the military functioning of medical reserve officers.

AS of April 1, 1925, there were 775 Chemical Warfare Reserve officers enrolled, or an increase of about 25 per cent during the past four months.

Upon the completion of the War Department's study with respect to the administration of Reserve Corps requirements, it is expected that the more than 1,000 vacancies now existing in this branch will be filled with more rapidity.

The study now being made by the department, which is based upon the results of five years' experience, involves the question of fundamental requirements for Reserve officers. It is believed that the War Department will complete its study in the very near future.

THE third annual dinner and dance of the Brooklyn Chapter, R.O.A., will be held at the Hotel Bossert, Montague and Hicks Streets, Brooklyn, N. Y., May 16, at 7 p. m. Maj. Gen. C. P. P. E. Traub, U.S.A., Chief of Staff, 77th Division; Col. John J. Bradley, U.S.A., commanding 18th Infantry; Col. Sydney Grant, N.Y.N.G., commanding 245th Artillery; Col. Clement A. Trott, U.S.A., of Governors Island; Lt. Col. N. C. Shiverick, O.R.C., president New York State Reserve Officers' Association; Lt. Col. C. R. Reynolds, U.S.A., commandant M.F.S.S., Carlisle Barracks, Pa.; Maj. Glenn I. Jones, U.S.A., assistant to the Surgeon General of the Army; Maj. C. E. Russell; and Judge Fish are some of the speakers and distinguished guests who will be present.

Lt. Col. J. C. De Vries, O.R.C., is chairman of the dinner committee, and has just returned from a visit to President Coolidge to extend to him an invitation to be the chapter's honored guest. An elaborate program of entertainment is being arranged by the committee. The Brooklyn chapter is the largest in New York State, and is steadily growing in membership and enthusiasm.

MILITARY TRAINING CAMPS

CHAPLAIN ALVA J. BRASTED, U.S.A., on duty at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., is very enthusiastic over the coming Summer training camps of the C.M.T.C. "As the chaplain of the 1924 Summer training camp at Ft. Sam Houston, commanded by Brig. Gen. Preston Brown," he states in writing to the ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL, "I was most deeply impressed with the splendid work that was done. No time was wasted. It was, in fact, from beginning to end intensive training for everyone. The moral influences were the best possible. Entertainments of high character were given every evening. The best girls of the city were invited and attended the weekly social functions. The officers attended the religious services with their companies. There were strict rules against profanity, gambling and all bad habits."

Chaplain Brasted has received numerous letters from the young men who attended the camps praising the latter in the highest terms. He is sanguine that the camps of 1925 will be fully as large as those of 1924, if not larger.

"MODERN business and progress demand training for mind and body and intimate contact with men," according to Gov. George H. Dern, of Utah, who, writing to Maj. Gen. C. T. Menoher, U.S.A., commanding the 9th Corps Area, states that this essential training is offered by the Citizens' Military Training Camps.

Governor Dern declares that the Citizens' Military Training Camp movement has passed the experimental stage and has demonstrated its usefulness, and expresses the hope that every county in his state will be represented in the attendance at this Summer's camps.

Governor Dern's letter to General Menoher is as follows: "I am delighted to learn of the outlook for record attendance this year at the Citizens' Military Training Camps in the Western States. I share with you the hope that every county in Utah will be represented in camp this year. It is my impression that the more populous sections of the state have been well represented at camp on previous occasions and I trust that your program this season will induce an unusually heavy representation."

Allies in the Alleys

To Emerson is ascribed the saying that "light is the best policeman."

The authorities of Fresno, California, have recognized this truth by giving their officers the help of G-E lights in dark corners—allies in the alleys.

Light is also a good fireman, a first class salesman, and a wonderful protector of human life. And at what low wages it works!

You go to your doctor, your lawyer and banker for advice in their fields of specialized knowledge. The lighting of streets, stores and homes is a science also. The experts of the General Electric Company are at the service of your community.

THE ARMS CONFERENCE

THE important conference of powers to be held at Geneva, Switzerland, May 4, under the auspices of the League of Nations, will consider the question of a convention for the control of the international trade in arms, munitions and various war implements. This question of control may prove a complex one, although there are many authorities who believe that the sales in question can be controlled under reasonable conditions and much civil strife saved thereby.

The draft to be used as the agenda of the conference is that prepared by a convention composed of a temporary mixed commission of the League of Nations. This draft in brief provides that the contracting parties shall prohibit the export of arms, ammunition and other implements of war, except under a system of licenses to be mutually agreed upon by the signatories. The general principle embodied is that the shipments in question in time of peace should be limited to recognized Governments under a control to be exercised by each of the exporting states.

It provides for publicity of all phases of the traffic in arms, and authorizes the creation of a central bureau of statistics at Geneva charged with the duty of publishing broadcast full information relative to the transportation of arms from one country to another.

The United States now prohibits any shipment of war implements to China, on the ground that such shipments tend to incite civil war.

Among the 39 Governments to be represented at the conference are those of Great Britain, France, Japan, Belgium, Italy and Spain. The United States will be represented unofficially by the following delegation: Representative Theodore E. Burton, of Ohio; Hugh S. Gibson, American Minister to Switzerland; Rear Adm. Andrew T. Long, U.S.N.; Allen W. Dulles, Chief of the Division of Near Eastern Affairs, Department of State; and Brig. Gen. Colden L.H. Ruggles, U.S.A.; Charles F. Her-ring, commercial attaché at Berlin; Alan F. Winslow, secretary of the American Legation at Berne; Maj. George V. Strong, General Staff, U.S.A.; and Comdr. Herbert F. Leary, U.S.N., assistant naval attaché in Europe, will be attached to the delegation as technical advisers.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Questions having to do with military or naval matters will be answered in this department as soon as possible after their receipt. Communications must in all cases be signed, giving the correct name and address of the inquirer. A self-addressed stamped envelope must be enclosed if a personal reply is desired.

As I wish to purchase my discharge in order that I may enter school, I wish to know just what evidence I must give in stating that I wish to buy out for the reason of going to school. VOICE OF THE SERVICES

REVISING PROMOTIONS

TO THE EDITOR:

WILL you kindly print the following comments upon a news item in your issue of January 17, 1925, entitled, "Bill Up to Revise Army Promotion List," in order that all concerned may see that there are two sides (or more) to any question—more particularly one having to do with changing the Single List!

The writer has read many items in the JOURNAL and received a few pamphlets containing the views now embodied in this proposed bill, but with only one exception has he ever read the other side. This must be due to the difficulty of organizing or arousing those on the defensive side of any question who have nothing to gain and yet everything to lose.

I now list what I consider to be pertinent comments upon this bill, hoping that by so doing I shall at least partially show that there is another view or side to be considered, and that, like the decision of the "Shanks Board," there are inequalities in the Single List as now composed, but that there is no "cure-all" remedy which will not create as great, if not greater, inequalities.

No. 1. The fundamental basis of the Single List, when proposed, passed and to date, is years of service or seniority.

No. 2. I believe that the provision of the 1920 reorganization bill, wherein all captains and lieutenants were placed upon the Single List according to length of their service, was sound in the majority of cases, because the writer observed how the requirements for the different grades were and had to be lowered between the first training and all subsequent camps. In other words, second lieutenants commissioned from the first camp or camps probably would have received a higher grade had they attended the 1918 camps. Furthermore, I know of some second lieutenants from the first camp who, after going to France in 1917 and serving with some of our best combat divisions on the front with satisfaction, were discharged after the war as second lieutenants! And I know of others who were commissioned late in 1918 and who received one or two promotions in rapid succession, not due to their service or proficiency but to plain luck in being assigned to new troops where the vacancies existed. I do not, however, mean that they were not qualified, nor that they didn't make good, but only to demonstrate the inequalities that did and couldn't help from existing with respect to rank and promotion. This is not personal, as the writer was automatically promoted in July, 1918, upon arrival from France, after nine months' service there.

Furthermore, my immediate friends knew the provision of the 1920 act, and we applied for permanent commissions accordingly, knowing that our service would make us captains. There were many, including some of the examining board perhaps, who did not understand the provisions of the act, and for these I have only sympathy.

No. 3. Regardless of comment No. 2, I, of course, realize that there are some inequalities involved in the Single List as now composed, but I also believe, like the "Shanks Board," that there is no "cure-all" remedy to be applied that will not create as many, if not more, inequalities, and the proposed bill is no exception, in my humble opinion.

No. 4. I have no objection to an officer commissioned after August 15, 1917, in or below the grade of captain, who after real service, either in this country but preferably in France, was promoted to a captaincy, or perhaps a majority, and who was on July 1, 1920, appointed a captain in the Regular Army, being placed above me on the Single List, although I have had more service than he, but I do most strenuously object to having others who were commissioned late in 1918 and with little or no service and whose only plea for preferred treatment is that they were originally appointed captains on July 1, 1920, and there are many of the latter type included with the former!

No. 5. The latter type just referred to have some excuse for preferred treatment in that they told the War Department in 1920 that they would accept no commission below a captaincy, but this complaint was removed when Congress gave them preferred promotion back to the grade of captain after they were all demoted and their pay was not reduced while so demoted, and accepting the spirit of this implied contract, I have accepted my own demotion and the loss of $10 a month pay since last August without a murmur, but I see no reason for this preferred promotion and violation of the spirit of the Single List being made permanent.

No. 6. The graduates of West Point are not considered in the five preceding comments, but I cannot refrain from inviting attention to the provisions of this bill as pertains to some of them.

It may not be generally known, yet it is a fact, that there were two classes graduated late (just prior to the armistice) in 1918 who received their commissions as first lieutenants, automatically, along with their commissions as second lieutenants, without any service other than that at the Military Academy, which was less than three years. One of these classes above referred to, or at least those commissioned in the Engineers, have never been other than first lieutenants since, and while I personally know many of the members of these classes and can vouch for their ability, yet I cannot find any plausible excuse for their being placed above me on the Single List, in violation of the spirit of this list, and more particularly since none were tried in real service!

No. 7. This letter has been written solely in the interest of fair play, and if Congress, after knowing both sides of this question, sees fit to alter the promotion list, as desired by these 300 or so originally appointed captains, I shall accept it without a murmur.

FAIR PLAY.

MAINTAINING THE ARMY

TO THE EDITOR:

THE following suggestions concerning the procurement of personnel for the Army are offered in briefest outline. If they fail to fall upon sympathetic ears at this time they may furnish some seeds for thought and a basis for a more logical system at some future time than exists at present in the recruiting of our small Army.

Under present conditions a very considerable part of the energy and resources of the Army, accompanied by a large expenditure of money, are being employed in the effort to obtain by voluntary enlistment recruits to fill the ranks to the present authorized quota.

This should not be. The Constitution provides that the Congress shall "raise and support Armies," and a natural corollary to this obligation is the passage of some suitable law for the procurement of the personnel, in peace time as well as in war, without requiring the existing Army to expend large sums of money for recruiting purposes (all charged to the cost of maintaining the Army), and to employ so large a part of its time and energy, which should be devoted to training and preparation, in trying to induce men to enlist. This condition creates the impression to a large extent in the civilian world that the Army belongs to a few individuals already commissioned or enlisted therein, to whom belongs the responsibility of recruiting and maintaining the Army.

Notwithstanding the advantages of education and vocational training and other benefits offered by the Army, men will in general have to be hired in competition with other labor in the country or some form of draft provision adopted. I suggest some provision requiring each state or congressional district to furnish its quota for the peace-time Army, under such regulations as Congress may prescribe. These should be organized together as far as possible and localized in sentiment, and if the full quota volunteers so much the better.

The principle of universal training was widely discussed at one time and a suggestion as to its application in this connection may not be amiss. The simplest form of application would be to refuse the franchise to any person, physically capable of receiving such training, until he had gone through a prescribed course, which should be brief and sufficient only to lay a foundation and impress upon the individual his obligation to his Government in time of need.

This training should be taken as part of his education and at his own expense, in schools, colleges, training camps and the National Guard, or with the assistance of the states; and the agency of the Regular Army be used only so far as it provided enlistments for the peace-time quota. Enlistment would in this case present a distinct advantage and benefit to the young man preparing himself for the obligation of citizenship.

It is scarcely conceivable to me that any man or body of men could object to the principle here set forth or who could set up a logical argument in favor of the privilege of participating in the government of a country without making some small sacrifice in preparation for its defense.

EMERITUS.

ARMY PROMOTIONS AND RETIREMENTS

THE retirement from active service on April 18, 1925, on account of the age limit, of Brig. Gen. John T. Knight, U.S.A., on duty at the War Department as assistant to the Quartermaster General, removes from the active list a progressive officer, well known for his high attainments. He was born in Virginia, April 18, 1861, and was graduated from the U.S.M.A. in the class of 1884, when he was assigned to the 3d Cavalry. General Knight's first service was on the frontier at Ft. Thomas, Ariz., and this was followed by duty at various posts in Texas and other places. He entered the Quartermaster's Department as a captain, October 14, 1896, and made a notable record thereafter as a constructing quartermaster in many fields. Among other duties, he was in charge of construction at the new post of Jefferson Barracks from June 1, 1897, to August 5, 1898. He was division quartermaster on the staff of Maj. Gen. S. B. M. Young, U.S.V.; was chief quartermaster, Department of Santiago, to June, 1899; chief quartermaster, 2d Division, 8th Army Corps, under Maj. Gen. H. W. Lawton, U.S.V., in the Philippines; and served with General Lawton in the field until the latter's death. He was then assigned as chief quartermaster, Department of Northern Luzon. He was depot quartermaster at Manila from April 1, 1900, to December 31 of the same year.

Among other subsequent duties, General Knight served on the General Staff, and was in charge of the general intermediate depot at San Francisco, Calif. During the World War he served as quartermaster and general superintendent of the Army Transport Service at Newport News, Va.; as quartermaster of Base No. 5 at Brest, France, and as assistant and chief quartermaster of the A.E.F. He was awarded the D.S.M. by our Government, the Order of University (with palm) (Officer of Public Instruction), the Order of Prince Danilo I (commander) by Montenegro, and the Polonia Restituta (Class III) by Poland. The citation of the Distinguished Service Medal follows: "For exceptionally meritorious and distinguished services. As chief quartermaster and superintendent of the Army Transport Service at the Port of Embarkation, Newport News, Va., a position of great responsibility, in which he prepared ships for convoy and executed the manifold duties of his office with conspicuous merit." The last duties of General Knight were at Washington, in the office of the Quartermaster General.

ARMY, NAVY AND AIR FORCE GAZETTE, April 4, 1925. Price 1 shilling.

LEGAL DEPARTMENT

BY SAMUEL T. ANSELL

The following digest of Comptroller General's decisions is announced:

1. Where an officer of the Navy assigned to temporary duty on board the Receiving Ship at Puget Sound was quartered and messed on board the vessel from January 9 to February 6, 1922, he was entitled to sea pay, says the Comptroller General, citing several decisions of the Comptroller of the Treasury. (Overand's case, April 18, 1925.)

2. In considering a case where an allotment was paid for several months after an enlisted man of the Navy was discharged, the Comptroller General said: "The supply officer having failed to send notice to discontinue the allotment in question upon the discharge of the enlisted man, as required by Art. 1805 (6) of the Navy Regulations, 1920, and as a result of such failure payments were made to the allottee for a period of time subsequent to said discharge, viz., from August, 1922, to March, 1923, amounting to $280, the supply officer is primarily liable for the payments so illegally made, and the amount thereof is properly chargeable against his account." (Overand's case, April 18, 1925.)

3. In a case where an ensign was transferred from the Naval Academy to the Texas at Seattle it developed that a transportation request was issued from New York to Seattle and mileage of $151 was paid accordingly, but the amount was disallowed in the disbursing officer's account. The Comptroller General recomputed the mileage as follows:

From Annapolis, Md., to Seattle, Wash., by the shortest usually traveled route (O.T.D.), 3,020 miles at 8 cents per mile, $241.60; less 3 cents per mile over the same route, 3,020 miles, $90.60; total, $151.00.

The cost of transportation actually furnished was as follows: Transportation request N-1795848, $72.92. Had transportation been furnished by the shortest usually traveled route from Annapolis, Md., to Seattle, Wash., the cost to the Government would have been $70.58; difference equals $2.34. Upon review the settlement was modified and the amount of $2.34 was certified due the United States instead of $151. (Smith's case, April 18, 1925.)

4. Where an enlisted man of the National Guard was discharged to accept a commission as Second Lieutenant in the Field Artillery, his right to receive drill pay between the date of discharge and the date of passing the examination for a commission is denied for reasons here assigned.

The discharge effective April 30, 1924 completely separates claimant from the service as an enlisted man in the National Guard and he was not thereafter entitled to drill pay in such capacity, and, while he was an officer of the Ohio National Guard, Section 75 of the same act denies him any benefit accruing under that act until the passing of the examination there required, which was passed June 7, 1924. Federal recognition having been extended to him from that date, he was from and subsequent to such date an officer of the National Guard, qualified under the National Defense Act and entitled to National Guard pay as prescribed by Section 109 of such act, which for lieutenants belonging to organizations is one-thirtieth of the monthly base pay of their grade as prescribed for the Regular Army for each regular drill or other period of instruction authorized by the Secretary of War.

See decision of January 19, 1923, to Lieutenant Colonel Adams, 17 M.S. Comp. Gen. 747. The first drill pay accruing to claimant as a Second Lieutenant was for the drill attended by him June 11, 1924, for which it appears that payment was made on the original roll. (Green's case, April 18, 1925.)

5. A Medical Officer of the Navy applied for reconsideration of his claim for rental allowance disallowed on account of his having been in a hospital for more than six months. The Comptroller General allowed the claim under the Act of May 31, 1924, which was made retroactive to July 1, 1922, and concluded: Claimant was entitled to active duty pay from July 1 to December 14, 1923, inclusive, and not having been assigned public quarters for occupancy by himself and dependents, he is entitled, under the provisions of the Act of May 31, 1924, to rental allowance for that period amounting to $437.33. 40 M.S. Comp. Gen. 351. For like reasons, the officer was entitled, between April 2, and June 30, 1923, to the rental allowance of $237.33, which he received. The settlement is modified and the sum of $437.33 is certified due claimant from the United States.

6. An enlisted man of the Navy who had served seven enlistments and who was on May 5, 1919, transferred to the Fleet Naval Reserve and given a special order discharge from the Reserve to reenlist in the Regular Navy, and did reenlist in the Navy May 6, 1919, where he served until his retirement on July 5, 1922, was checked increased pay for continuous service and under General Order No. 34, at the rate of $21.78 per month from May 6, 1919, to September 30, 1921, and was not thereafter credited with the increase. In the review of the claim it was held that the Act of March 4, 1925. (Public No. 611) 43 Stat., provided: "That all men transferred from the Regular Navy to the Fleet Naval Reserve, who have heretofore reenlisted in the Navy shall from the date of reenlistment, be credited with pay, including subsequent increases therein, at the same rate, exclusive of retainer pay, that they were receiving when on active duty in the Navy as members of the Fleet Naval Reserve prior to date of reenlistment in the Navy."

When transferred to the Fleet Naval Reserve on November 14, 1916, claimant was entitled to and was receiving $9.68 per month for continuous service and $12.10 per month under General Order No. 34. The Act of March 4, 1925, entitles claimant to such credits from May 6, 1919, date he reenlisted in the Navy. By settlement dated January 24, 1923, claimant was charged with pay credited him for the period May 6, 1919, to December 31, 1920, amounting to $431.24 less short credit of pay for August 2, 1920, $4.37, or $426.87. Claimant is now entitled to credit for such increase at $21.78 per month from January 1, 1921, to June 30, 1922, amounting to $392.04, and $5.09 (pay for one day including additional pay), short credited for August 2, 1920. Settlement will be made accordingly and the charge of $426.37 will be removed. (Tail's case, April 13, 1925.)

7. A Major of the Quartermaster Corps, U.S. Army, applied for a reconsideration of an item of $75, being the difference between $375 and $450 as an amount paid to certain enlisted men of the National Guard for the month of July, 1924, for extra compensation while detailed as helpers for the care of animals. The men concerned were paid $375 for the months of June and August, 1924, in accordance with the regulations and the authority for the increase to $450 was brought into question. In passing upon the legality of the action, it was said:

It does not appear that the increased rates paid for the month of July were covered by a written order and a copy thereof filed with the voucher as required by the regulations, paragraph 943. However, if such order had been issued, it would have been unauthorized as the company commander had no authority to increase the monthly rates so that the total thereof would exceed the amount of the monthly allotment. As these men were not entitled to pay as helpers during the period they attended the annual encampment, July 6 to 22, 1924, it is obvious they were paid at such increased rates as helpers fixed at the end of the month as would yield the same amount of compensation they would have been entitled to had they not attended the encampment and had performed the duties of helper for the entire month, thus attempting to do indirectly what could not have been done directly.

As these men were entitled to pay for the month of July, 1924, at not exceeding the total rate of $375, the amount paid at the increased rate in excess of the amount at rate of $375 should be disallowed. (McGinnis' case, April 13, 1925.)

8. An officer of the Navy ordered from the U.S.S. Colorado at New York to the Destroyer Squadron at San Diego, Calif., was credited by the supply officer with $161.90 mileage. The credit was disallowed in his accounts and upon review the officer was held to be entitled to $144.66. The Comptroller General said:

"It appears that Commander Brown was furnished transportation request N-1951061, dated May 22, 1924, for transportation from New York, N. Y., to San Francisco, Calif., and transportation request N-1951062, dated May 22, 1924, for transportation from San Francisco, Calif., to San Diego, Calif., to enable him to make a stop-over en route for his own convenience. * * * Commander Brown's mileage claim should be computed as follows:

From New York, N. Y., to San Diego, Calif., by the shortest usually traveled route (O.T.D.), 3,238 miles at 8 cents per mile, $259.04; less 3 cents per mile over the same route, 3,238 miles, $97.14; total, $161.90.

The cost of the transportation actually furnished was as follows: Transportation request N-1951061, $84.39; transportation request, N-1951062, $17.39, total, $101.78.

Had transportation been furnished over the shortest usually traveled route the cost to the Government would have been $84.54; difference, $17.24.

This difference or excess cost deducted from $161.90, amount of mileage otherwise due, leaves a balance of $144.66, as the correct amount payable to the officer. As stated above the officer was paid $161.90, whereas he was entitled to only $144.66. Upon review the settlement is modified and the amount of $17.24 is certified due the United States instead of $161.90." (Brown's case, April 14, 1925.)

9. Where an officer of the Navy who was ordered to make a permanent change of station and was denied credit in the disbursing officer's account as cost of transportation of his wife and two children, the Comptroller General, upon review of the pay officer's request, allowed the sum claimed for reasons as follows: It appears from the evidence now submitted that on March 6, 1922, claimant was ordered to make a permanent change of station from Charleston, S. C., to Annapolis, Md., and that on March 17, 1922, he was detached at Charleston and reported at Annapolis on March 28, 1922.

On May 15, 1922, he requested transportation for his dependents and was notified by the Bureau of Navigation there was no Government transportation available; also that in view of Alnav 10 transportation requests would not be furnished. Alnav 10 issued March 4, 1922, was notice to the service that until further orders transportation for their dependents should be purchased by the officers and men and claims submitted for reimbursement. Claimant received such notice on May 23, 1922, and his dependents performed the travel, arriving at Annapolis June 17, 1922. Upon the evidence now furnished showing such application and refusal, the decision is modified and $51.34 is certified for credit in Commander Mayo's disbursing account. (Ashton's case, April 14, 1925.)

FOREIGN MILITARY AND NAVAL NEWS

BRITISH

A GOOD marching record under difficult circumstances was made a few weeks ago by the Royal Scots Greys, of the British Army, stationed in India. The regiment, in marching down to Meerut from Risalpur, performed a journey of about 700 miles in less than two months' time. They crossed the 11th Regiment of Hussars, proceeding to Risalpur, and exchanged transport with them at Ludhiana. The Hussars, having started two weeks later than the Scots Greys, took the same time to reach Risalpur.

ANOTHER German destroyer was raised on April 3 at Scapa Flow by Messrs. Cox and Danks, after six days' work. This vessel was the first of the eight so far salvaged to be found. She was lying on her side, and had to be got into an upright position before being lifted bodily. There are still 18 destroyers to be got up.

JAPANESE

THE Japanese Navy, according to advices from Tokio, will hold naval maneuvers in the Pacific on an elaborate scale on May 27, the anniversary of the destruction of the Russian Fleet in the Sea of Japan by the Japanese Fleet under the famous Admiral Togo.

In this memorable sea battle it was upon her armored ships that Japan had to rely for the defeat of Russia's armada, which included 12 battleships, 9 cruisers, 4 scouting ships, 9 destroyers, with a division of 15 transports and tugs, under Admiral Rozhdestvenski. Of the 12 ships which formed the Russian battle line, 8 were sunk and 4 were captured, 4 cruisers were sunk, 1 ran ashore, 3 were interned at Manila, and 1 escaped. Of the 9 destroyers, 4 were sunk, 1 was captured, 1 was interned at Shanghai, and 2 escaped.

Three special service vessels were sunk, two were interned and one escaped. Admiral Togo in effecting the complete destruction of the Russian fleet only suffered the loss of three torpedo boats. The Russians had 216 officers and 4,614 men killed or drowned, 278 officers and 5,639 men wounded. The Japanese loss was 110 officers and men killed and 590 wounded.

THE Japanese Navy Department made an official announcement a few days ago that under the terms of the Washington Arms Treaty 22 warships for the navy are now under construction for Japan's Navy. The ships under construction are: Eight first-class cruisers, displacing 68,400 tons; three second-class cruisers, displacing 16,500 tons; ten destroyers, totaling 14,000 tons; and a 26,000-ton airplane mother-ship.

FRENCH

THE official acceptance of the record made by the French aviation captains, Arrachard and Lemaire, who attempted in February a nonstop flight from Etampes, France, to Dakar, French West Africa, was accepted by the International Aeronautic Federation on April 25. The officers above named were forced down at Villa Cisneros, Rio Oro, about 434 miles from Dakar. The federation accepted 1,967.25 miles as the official record of their nonstop flight. The federation also accepted the record of Guido Guidi, Italian aviator, who, flying from Pisa, Italy, February 4, made 104.39 miles an hour for 310.6 miles, carrying a load of 3,600 pounds.

SPANISH

IN discussing the changes following the withdrawal of the Spanish troops from Morocco, Gen. Primo de Rivera, head of the Spanish military directorate, on April 25 was quoted as follows:

"It is impossible for Spain to occupy Morocco by military force. Two hundred thousand men would be required to hold the territory, and the sacrifice would be too great for Spain. It is now we who are harassing the enemy. Our aviators are bombarding his markets and villages. Our patrols are carrying off his harvests and cattle. Abd-El-Krim is finding it difficult to maintain obedience among the tribes. The ammunition abandoned by the Spanish is now commencing to be exhausted. We expect to recapture Alhucemas soon and then to limit our military effort to a rectification of the line. However, I have no intention to recommence a conquest of Morocco. That would be an insane enterprise."

NATIONAL CAPITAL MORTGAGE COMPANY

OFFICE OF BOARD OF DIRECTORS

1108 Sixteenth Street

WASHINGTON, D. C.

March 31, 1925.

In view of the large and increasing amount of National Capital Mortgage Company stock that is being purchased by officers of the Army, Navy, and Marine Corps, as well as by warrant and noncommissioned officers of the Services, and in view of the fact that many letters received by the Company indicate much of this stock is being bought because of the confidence which has been inspired by the personnel of the Board of Directors, we, the undersigned Directors, voicing the sentiment of the entire Board, wish to announce:

1. The Directors gratefully appreciate the confidence that their connection with the National Capital Mortgage Company has inspired in the United Services, the consciousness of which imposes upon us a moral obligation of which we are fully mindful, and which shall always prompt us to do all in our power to safeguard and protect the interests of all stockholders.

2. Not only do we habitually attend all meetings of the Board of Directors, thus keeping in close touch with the management of the affairs of the Company, but we have, each of us, as have all other Directors, purchased a substantial amount of stock, for which we paid the par value at which it is sold to the general public, as no bonus stock ever has been, or ever will be, issued to any Director or anyone else connected with the Company.

3. As another means of protecting the interests of the stockholders, the accounts of the National Capital Mortgage Company are audited once each quarter by a standing committee of five Directors, who are neither officers of the Company nor members of the Executive Committee. This Auditing Committee consists of General Joseph T. Dickman, Admiral T. J. Cowie, Colonel Charles B. Drake, Colonel Edward S. Walton, and Colonel James M. Wheeler.

4. In conclusion, we wish to give it as our honest opinion and firm belief that, under the present efficient and economical management of the affairs of the National Capital Mortgage Company, with the wonderful stability of Washington whose population is rapidly increasing, with a corresponding increase in building activities, the future of the National Capital Mortgage Company is most promising, and there is every indication that the assured earnings of the Company will be big.

G.C.M.O., 3, March 10, 1925, publishes the proceedings of the G.C.M., at Ft. Davis, C. Z., in the case of Maj. William W. Griffin, Q.M.C., U.S.A., charged with violation of the 94th Article of War, and the 64th Article of War. The specifications to the charges alleged that he appropriated a refrigerator, company size, the property of the United States, and other allegations involved financial irregularities. He was found guilty, and was sentenced to be dismissed from the service of the United States and to be confined for one year.

Maj. Gen. Wm. Lassiter, commanding the Panama Canal Department, in reviewing the proceedings, said: "The findings of guilty of specifications 1 and 2, Charge I, and Charge I, Original Charges, and of the specifications under Charge I, Additional Charges, and of Charge I, Additional Charges, are approved. The findings of guilty of specifications 1 and 2, Charge II, Additional Charges, and of Charge II, Additional Charges, are disapproved. The sentence is approved, but the confinement thereby adjudged is remitted.

President Coolidge, on March 6, 1925, in acting on the case said: "Only so much of the findings of Additional Charge I and the specification thereunder are approved as involve a finding that the accused, having on June 24, 1924, received from Col. Charles R. Howland, 14th Inf., his superior officer, a lawful order directing the accused to deposit not later than 12 o'clock noon, June 25, 1924, in a United States Depository all public funds for which he was responsible, did in violation of the 96th Article of War at Camp at Gatun, C. Z., on June 24 and June 25, 1924, fail and neglect as to deposit said public funds or otherwise lawfully dispose of the same. The sentence is confirmed and will be duly executed."

PERSONAL CALENDAR

ADM. ROBERT E. COONTZ, U.S.N., Commander-in-Chief, U.S. Fleet, has received a letter from Mayor John L. Bacon, of San Diego, Calif., expressing his appreciation of the conduct of the enlisted men of the Navy during the visit of the Fleet to San Diego. The letter says in part: "I have never seen anywhere near the number of men visit San Diego at one time who gave us as little trouble as the Navy men did. In fact, there was no trouble, and the visit of the Fleet was a real pleasure from start to finish."

"This is really a remarkable record, to think that 20,000 real, live young men could go into a city the size of San Diego and have nothing but good reported of them from all quarters. It is so remarkable as to be almost unbelievable, and I want to express my thorough appreciation of the splendid conduct of the enlisted men of the Navy."

COL. STANHOPE E. BLUNT, U.S.A., Ret., a well-known officer of the Army, who resides at 83 Ridgewood Terrace, Springfield, Mass., was the subject of a very complimentary editorial notice in the Springfield Union of April 19. The editorial says in part: "Col. Stanhope E. Blunt has signified to Mayor Parker his desire to retire from the Board of Park Commissioners at the expiration of his term on May 1. At that time he will have completed 11 years of faithful and constructive service as a member of the board, during most of which period he has been its chairman. This position has also carried with it membership on the Planning Board, in which capacity he has been equally diligent and painstaking. At the age of 74, after his long service, Colonel Blunt certainly has earned the right to lay down his official cares and responsibilities, but the Mayor will find it no easy task to replace him. Some men will accept positions for the honor and prestige that accompanies them, but without seriously applying themselves to their duties. Others will see in them an opportunity to do the city a real service and strive their best to make the most of the opportunity. Colonel Blunt is of the latter class. He may well take pride and satisfaction in the progress that has been made during his membership on the commission, and he has the comforting thought that whoever may be selected to succeed him the work will proceed on the foundation he and his associates have so patiently and intelligently established."

FINANCE AND INVESTMENTS

Every Ambitious Family Should Have These Two Booklets

HERE are two booklets which should be in every ambitious home; booklets over which husbands and wives, fathers and sons, should put their heads together in serious discussion.

Investors in every State in the United States, and in 30 countries and territories abroad, today are profiting by the simple principles of successful investing which these booklets explain.

SMITH BONDS
1/10

Smith Bonds are First Mortgage Bonds, strongly secured by improved, income-producing city property, and protected by a definite system of safeguards. This system of safeguards has made possible our record of no loss to any investor in 52 years.

Current offerings of Smith Bonds, paying 7%, are available in denominations of $100, $500 and $1,000, and in maturities from 2 to 15 years.

We recommend these bonds as the ideal investment for any individual, corporation or institution whose first consideration is safety.

One of these booklets is called "Fifty-two Years of Proven Safety." It gives you the benefit of our 52 years of experience in the field of first mortgage investments, during which time no investor in our offerings has ever lost one cent of principal or interest. The time-tested safeguards which are responsible for this record set a safety standard by which you may be guided in selecting safe investments for your funds.

The second booklet, "How to Build an Independent Income," tells how small investors can get bond interest on savings of $10 or more a month, and how large investors can compound the income from securities they already own, at the liberal rate paid by Smith Bonds—now 7%.

This booklet also explains the surprising results which you can accomplish by systematic investment in 7% Smith Bonds. For example, if you invest monthly under this plan, in less than 10 years your independent monthly income will exceed your monthly investment.

Each of these booklets can be read in about 10 or 15 minutes. But those few minutes can mean to you, as they have meant to so many others, years of perfect satisfaction and perfect safety in the investment of your savings. For free copies of the booklets, fill out and mail the coupon today.

The current list of investment suggestions is comprised of five public utility stocks, including preferred, capital and common. All are operating companies and, as such, they include some of the largest in the country.

Brooklyn Edison does the entire electric light and power business for the borough of Brooklyn, serving without competition a population in excess of 2,000,000. The section of New York served by this company is growing rapidly and gross earnings have increased year by year for over a decade. Average annual net earnings for each of the last 10 years have been $15.72 per share. The funded debt of the company amounts to $45,636,000, or about 40 per cent of the entire capitalization, a decidedly low ratio. Dividends of 8 per cent have been paid since 1904. At the end of 1924 cash on hand exceeded total current liabilities. The stock may be considered a sound investment.

The recent decision of Federal Judge Winslow, in the District Court of New York, that the $1 gas law is unconstitutional and confiscatory is of far-reaching importance to Brooklyn Union Gas and the Consolidated Gas Company of New York. This decision was to the effect that such companies are entitled to earn not less than 8 per cent on the present value of their properties. A special master sitting in the Brooklyn Union Gas case found the value to be $58,092,513 as of December 31, 1923, to which has been added about $6,000,000 for improvements since that time. In addition, $6,000,000 was allowed for going value. However, upon the basis of $64,000,000 valuation, a net return of 8 per cent would be equivalent to about $7 a share after deduction of interest on the $22,000,000 funded debt. Actual operations in 1924 resulted in earnings of $1.17 per share, with gas sales at $1 per 1,000 cubic feet.

Judge Winslow, reviewing the special master's findings in the Consolidated Gas case, states the present value to be $134,099,183, in addition to which $9,000,000 was allowed for going value and $7,181,000 for franchises and rights. The reproduction cost, however, is estimated at $155,100,000. In addition to doing the gas business in Manhattan, the Bronx, Queens and parts of Westchester, the company also controls, through ownership of the entire common stock, the New York Edison Company, which supplies electric light and power in the same district. Earnings for 1924 under the $1 gas law for the combined properties were equivalent to $7.43 a share on Consolidated Gas common stock. A return of 8 per cent on the gas properties, however, would have resulted in earnings in the neighborhood of $10 a share, as nearly as can be estimated. As the $1 gas law situation now stands, the next move will be on the part of the state to appeal the case to the United States Supreme Court. In view of the fact that the gas companies have won all their points of contention up to the present time, it seems improbable the Supreme Court would reverse the decision.

Hudson & Manhattan Railroad Company owns and operates the double tube tunnel system under the Hudson River, connecting New York City with Jersey City, Hoboken, and Newark, and the railroad terminals at those points. The movement of population during the last few years has been out of Manhattan into the suburbs, and the marked increase in gross revenues of this company reflects in the substantial increase in commutation traffic. Since 1917 passenger revenues have practically doubled. During the same time the company has not increased its capital investment. The result is that from earnings of only 17 cents a share on the common stock in 1921, an increase to $3.33 a share in 1924 has taken place. The common stock recently went on an annual dividend basis of $2.50 a share, at which price it yields 8.35 per cent. As time goes on, the margin of safety should widen.

The New York State Railways owns and operates the city traction lines in Rochester, Syracuse, Utica, and Oneida, and interurban lines in that section. In all, over 597 miles are owned and leased. The dividends were suspended from the preferred in the period of 1917 to 1921 for the purpose of conserving cash, but in the following year the arrears were paid off. Since then, the regular rate of 5 per cent has been maintained. Earnings applicable to the preferred for the last six years have been as follows: 1919, $3.81; 1920, $10.83; 1921, $13.85; 1922, $19.07; 1923, $23.02; 1924, $25.95. The increase year by year has been substantial. The company is controlled by the New York Central Railroad through ownership of $13,604,000 common out of a total of $19,952,400.

CAN IT BE TRUE? AB-SO-LUTE-LY!

Many men have been good or great or both, in spite of whiskers that were as needless as four-wheel brakes on a wheelbarrow.

It is well, therefore, to approach the old plush album in a spirit of reverence. Behind Uncle Zachariah's bewildering begonias there may have been genial impulses that never got the publicity they deserved.

Try, if you please, to imagine how your own radiance would be dimmed if a tangled mass of whiskers made you look like a partial eclipse.

Fortunately there is no longer any reason why a man should permit a basketful of furniture stuffing to make him seem what he is not.

Colgate's Rapid-Shave Cream has made shaving so easy, and has taken discomfort out of it so thoroughly, that whiskers have ceased to crowd into society, and few of them continue to accumulate icicles.

COLGATE'S Rapid-Shave Cream

Today the middle-aged man looks young because he shaves every morning. Colgate's Rapid-Shave Cream makes it easy.

The close, moist lather goes to the base of the beard and softens it instantly where the razor's work is done, leaving the face soothed and velvety.

Colgate's is soft and creamy; it does not roll off the brush, and it is most quickly turned into lather.

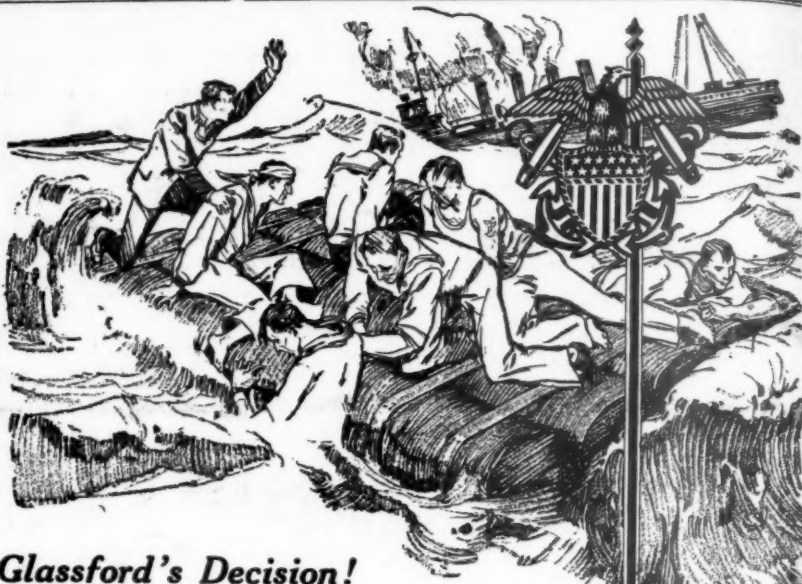

A clean shave daily has become a business as well as a social requirement.

Glassford's Decision!

A BRISK day in the great sea lane that runs between the white cliffs of Dover and the low-lying French Coast—October 9th, 1918.

H. M. S. Aquitania booming along with a bone in her teeth; swarming with Doughboys bound for the Great Adventure.

A few points off her starboard quarter, the U. S. S. Shaw, one of the escorting destroyers; weaving through the seas at 27½ knots an hour.

Her rudder suddenly jamming, the Shaw swooped toward the transport. Commander Glassford saw that if he kept speed he would strike the Aquitania. Possibly sink her.

Instantly he signalled full speed astern and turning more slowly—had his own bow cut off, losing two officers and three men, but saving the troop-ship.
